

STEAMER SINKS; MANY DROWNED

Forty-One Passengers And Crew Of The Dix Went Down With Vessel.

MISUNDERSTOOD SIGNALS GIVEN

Awful Accident Near Seattle, Washington--Details Of The Sad Occurrence Show Gross Carelessness On Part Of Sailors.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Seattle, Wash., Nov. 19.—Forty-one passengers and members of the crew of the steamer Dix were drowned last evening in a collision between the Dix and the steamer Jeanie. Thirty-nine were saved and the Dix is an entire wreck, having sunk bow first.
Struck Amidship
The steamer Dix was bound for Port Blakeley from Seattle with passengers and had been steaming for a quarter of an hour in sight of each other, when through a misunderstanding of signals the Jeanie struck the Dix amidship on the starboard side and the latter sank almost before the boats could be lowered from the Jeanie.
At Almi Point
The accident occurred two miles north of Almi Point while the sound was as smooth as a mill pond. The Jeanie belongs to the Alaska Coast Company and succeeded in rescuing thirty-nine of the passengers and crew who jumped into the water as the Dix sank.

Sank at Once.
The Dix sank almost as soon as struck. The stern went down first and then the whole vessel settled, sinking rapidly. She listed on being hit, to the port and as the stern began to sink many passengers and crew jumped into the sound and were later picked up. It was all over so quickly that the crew of the Jeanie could give but little aid.
Some Prayed
While some of the passengers jumped into the water, while others crowded together on the decks and went down with the ship while praying. The women, that had but little chance for life, huddled as like rats in a trap, huddled all together, making no efforts to save themselves.
Captain Saved
Among those saved was Captain Lerman of the ill-fated vessel. The Jeanie was not injured and brought the survivors to this city. The whole affair is explained by the pilot's misunderstanding the signals given.

AMERICAN BILLIARD CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

"Gentleman's Game" Proving Very Popular in Manhattan This Season.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Nov. 19.—Not in many years has the game of billiards flourished in New York as it is the case this season. The number of billiard parlors now running in Manhattan is larger than ever before and they are filled nightly with devotees of the "gentleman's game." Though the winter has scarcely begun two national championship tournaments have already been pulled off and a third is scheduled to begin tonight. The tournament beginning tonight is for the new American championship trophy, emblematic of the 152 ball line championship. The entries have been restricted to the players who are in what is designated the "second class," or those just below class A, which is composed of F. H. Stinson, Schaefer and Sutton. Numbered among the players eligible to take part are such well known cue experts as "Father Tom" Foley of Chicago, Petersen of St. Louis, Cutler of Boston, and Gallagher and McLaughlin of New York. The new trophy is to become a player's permanent property if defended successfully for one year, either in match or tournament play. All games will consist of 400 points, and the holder of the championship trophy receives the right to name any city in the United States in which to play a match in defense of the title. The winner of the first tournament will be required to play within thirty days after receiving a challenge.

BIG ANTI-SALOON CONVENTION OPENS

Formal Inauguration of Session Will Occur This Evening--Prominent Men Present.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19.—Temperance advocates of national prominence are here in attendance on the annual convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America, which has its formal opening in the First Presbyterian church tonight. The national organization of the Anti-Saloon League was started more than a decade ago in Berlin, Ohio, by the late Rev. J. H. Kynett, of the church extension board of the Methodist church, and Archbishop Ireland. The object of the league was indicated by its motto, "The Saloon Must Go," is the suppression of the liquor traffic. The league is now organized in every state of the Union. During the past few years it has taken more or less active part in politics and in some states, particularly in Ohio, it has made its influence felt in elections. Among the men who will be heard at the present convention are Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, Hon. John G. Woolley of Chicago, Rev. Ward Beecher Pickard of Buffalo, Governor J. Frank Hanly of Indiana, E. S. Chapman, D. D., of California, Dr. E. O. Taylor of Boston, and Bishop Luther B. Wilson, who is president of the league.

Texas Club Women
El Paso, Texas, Nov. 19.—The advance guard of delegates has put in an appearance for the ninth annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, which is to be held in El Paso this week. Tomorrow will be taken up with the reception of the visitors and the regular business of the convention will begin Wednesday morning. Advice received by the arrangements committee indicates that there will be a good attendance from all parts of the state.

THREE PIONEERS OF BELOIT SUMMONED

Mrs. Mary I. Winslow, Henry Haase and Mrs. F. T. Merrill Died Within Few Hours.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., Nov. 19.—Three well known residents of Beloit died within a few hours Sunday. Mrs. Mary I. Winslow, widow of Charles D. Winslow, passed away at her home here at the age of ninety-three. She is survived by a son, Rev. Lyman Winslow, of the Congregational faith, who was until a year ago pastor of the Elgin Grady Strong chapel in the northeastern part of Beloit. Henry Haase, who has lived in the city for the past thirty-five years, died suddenly of apoplexy yesterday afternoon. He was janitor of the Goodwin block, owned by Mrs. Edwin F. Field, a former Janesville resident. Mrs. F. T. Merrill, also a pioneer resident, succumbed yesterday.

Died at Mendota
Mrs. Florence Witter, residing a few miles northwest of the city, died at the state hospital for the insane at Mendota Saturday evening. She had been taken to that institution last week and was suffering with melancholia.

COAL PRODUCTIONS OF THE PAST YEAR

Illinois is Still Second to Pennsylvania in the Total Output of the Year.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Nov. 19.—The total production of coal during 1905 in Illinois was 38,434,363 short tons with a spot value of $49,577,592 according to the report of E. W. Harker of the United States Geological survey. Illinois still ranks next to Pennsylvania in one production.

FOOTBALL CAPTAIN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Beloit Lad's Shoulder Broken in Three Places and Recovery Will Take Thirteen Months.

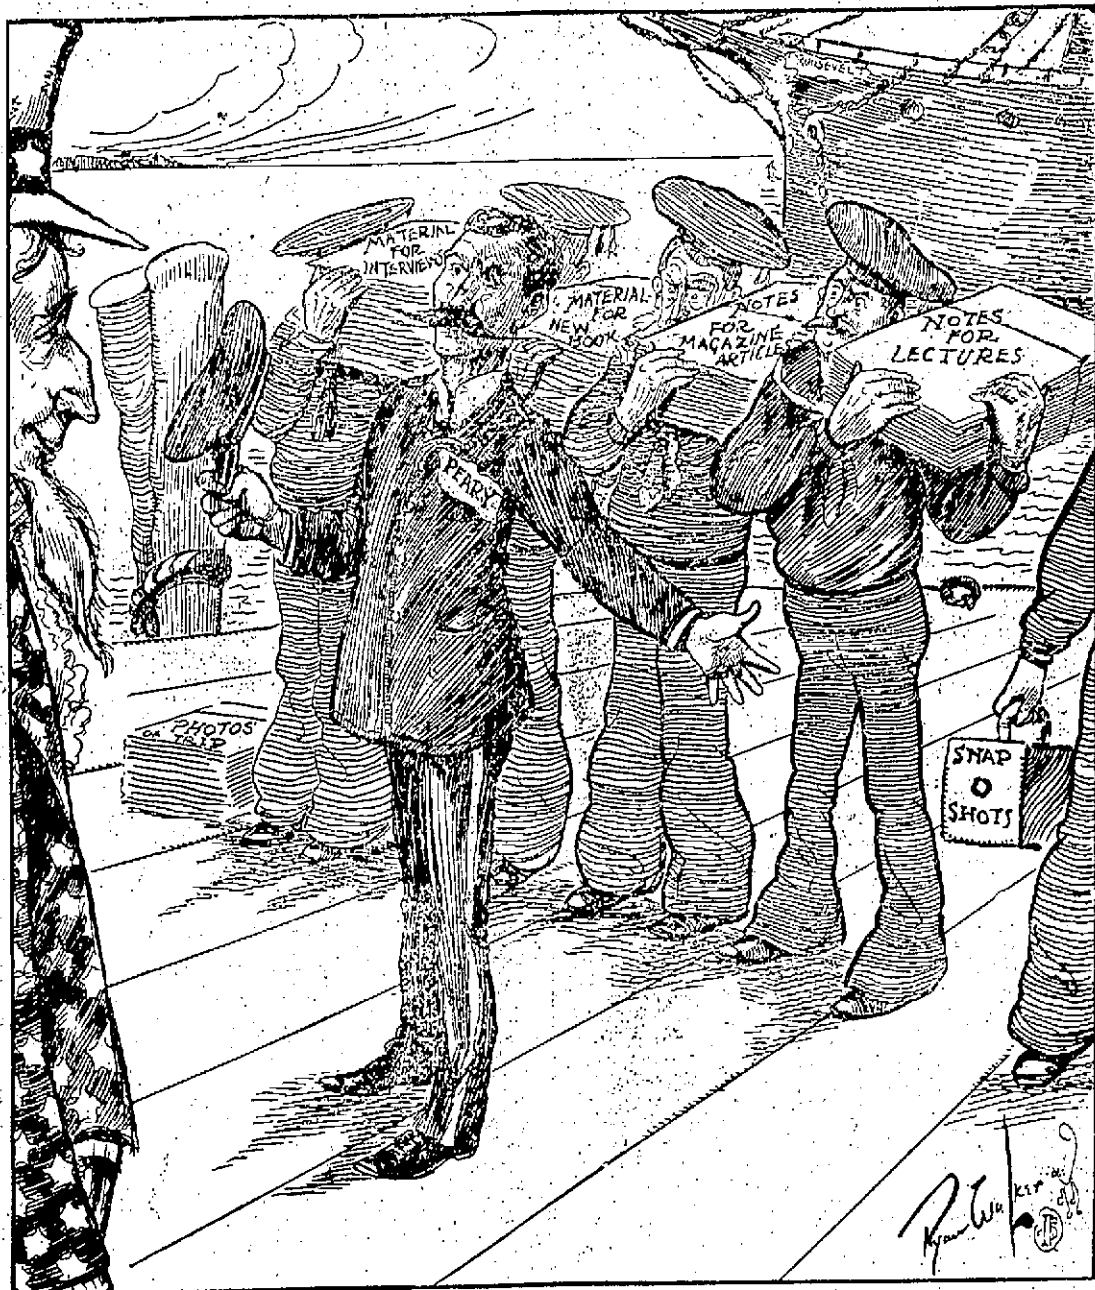

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., Nov. 19.—While playing in an amateur game yesterday, Roy Murray, aged sixteen, fell under a heavier player in tackling him and sustained three fractures of the shoulder. The injuries are so serious that the attending physicians believe it will be fully thirteen months before the bones are well knit and during this time the boy will have his shoulder either in a plaster cast or splints. Murray was captain of the "Weavie Wilkes" of South Beloit.

DANTFORTH BECKER DIED IN CHICAGO

Chicago Lawyer, Banker and Business Man and Uncle of Mayor of Milwaukee.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 19.—Mayor Becker this morning received the announcement of the death in Chicago of his uncle, Dantforth Becker. The deceased was a prominent lawyer, street railway stockholder and banker in the Windy City.

Live in Los Angeles: Mrs. G. M. Krouse, and daughter, Miss L. M. Krouse, departed Saturday for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will make their future home.

PEARY'S HOME AGAIN, OR ARCTIC DISCOVERIES.

SECRETARY ROOT TO SPEAK AT BANQUET

Accepts Invitation to Make Address on Occasion of Celebrating John Jay Treaty.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 19.—Secretary Root, who is here to attend the meeting of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, has accepted an invitation to deliver the principal address at the twelfth anniversary of the John Jay treaty between the United States and Great Britain. Another notable guest at the banquet is John Jay Schieffelin, a great grandson of John Jay, first chief justice of the United States, who prepared the treaty between this country and England.

PRODUCERS OF ICE ARE IN CONVENTION

Meeting at Columbus, Ohio, and Indicted Combines Will Be Discussed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—The annual convention of the Middle States Ice Producers' Exchange began in this city today, with headquarters at the Chittenden hotel. More than ordinary interest is manifested in the proceedings of this year's meeting owing to the prosecutions of the ice dealers in Toledo and other cities of the state during the past summer for alleged illegal combination to raise prices. Whether the convention will take any action in regard to this matter the members refuse to state. The president of the organization is Robert R. Reynolds of Cincinnati and the secretary, C. M. Kinzard of this city.

M'IVER WOULD HEAD BADGER TEACHERS

Superintendent of Schools at Oshkosh Begins Energetic Campaign for Presidency.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 19.—M. N. McIver, superintendent of city schools here, has announced himself as a candidate for president of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association and today opened an energetic campaign.

OSHKOSH'S HUGGER BELIEVED CAPTURED

Albert Neubauer Believed to Be "Jack" Who Has Been Terrorizing Girls.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 19.—Oshkosh girls have been terrorized for the past several days by a "Jack the Hugger" and today Albert Neubauer was arrested by the local police as a suspect. Some twenty young ladies will appear as witnesses at the man's trial.

In Session at Jacksonville
Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 19.—The attendance at the opening in this city today of the eighth annual convention of the Southern States Association of Commissioners of Agriculture was of a most gratifying character. All the states of the south were represented by their commissioners of agriculture or other delegates.

PATIENT ALLEGES ILLEGAL RESTRAINT

Wealthy Bay State Resident Claims Abduction by Commonwealth of Rhode Island.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 19.—Considerable interest is being manifested in the case of Simon G. Grosvenor of Cambridge, Mass., who was before the supreme court today with a petition, prepared by himself, seeking a writ of habeas corpus. Grosvenor is a Harvard graduate and the son of a distinguished legal authority. He alleges that he is illegally restrained at the Butler hospital for the insane here, and he charges abduction from Massachusetts. He was sent to the asylum in April of last year, his relatives stating that he suffered from hallucinations, the result of mental overwork. Grosvenor claims that the certificate of commitment contains no statement that he is insane and needs restraint. He says that he has been under close guard and that he was prevented from writing to his friends.

FOND DU LAC MAN PANAMA ENGINEER

David Molitor Receives High Appointment—To Assume Duties Immediately.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Fond du Lac, Wis., Nov. 19.—David Molitor of this city today received the appointment of engineer on the Panama canal and will assume his duties immediately.

ARRAIGN ROOSEVELT FOR HIS LATE ORDER

His Dismissal of Battalion of Colored Troops Calls Forth Storm of Protests.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Nov. 19.—Several American churches yesterday adopted resolutions arraigning President Roosevelt for dismissing without honor or three companies of negro soldiers.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE IS HONORED TODAY

American Federation of Labor to Make up the Cudgels For This Doctrine.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Minneapolis, Nov. 19.—The American Federation of Labor convention today adopted a resolution pledging the federation to use its influence for woman's suffrage.

KING AND QUEEN OF DENMARK ARRIVE IN BERLIN FOR VISIT

Royal Party Are Received With Pomp and Honor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin, Nov. 19.—King Frederick and Queen Louise of Denmark arrived here today.

BEGIN DISCHARGING THE COLORED TROOPS

Twenty-five Colored Troopers Given Their Pay and Transportation Home.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Ft. Reno, Okla., Nov. 19.—The first discharges of colored troops at Ft. Reno was made today when twenty-five soldiers were paid off and given transportation to their homes.

CIVIL SERVICE MEN IN ANNUAL SESSION

National Reform League Holding Twenty-sixth Convention at New Haven, Connecticut.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 19.—Many public men of prominence were present today at the formal opening of the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the National Civil Service Reform League. During the quarter of a century since it was founded the league has seen civil service rules supplant the "spoils" system in numerous departments of federal, state and municipal governments, the success of the movement being due in no small measure to the earnest work and continuous efforts of the league. The program of the present meeting covers two days and provides for addresses by President Daniel C. Gilman of the Carnegie Institution, Henry F. Greene of the United States Civil Service commission, Mayor W. F. Henney of Hartford, President Hadley of Yale university, and Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte. Secretary Bonaparte is one of the pioneer members of the league, as is also President Roosevelt.

STATUE OF HAMPTON IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Gen. Marion C. Butler, Army Commandant, Will Deliver Address at Unveiling of Monument.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Columbia, S. C., Nov. 19.—The handsome statue erected by the state of South Carolina in honor of her distinguished warrior and statesman, General Wade Hampton, will be unveiled tomorrow with ceremonies on an extensive scale. Visitors are already arriving in the city to attend the ceremonies and the morning trains are expected to bring many more from all over the state. A military parade will precede the unveiling and the addresses will be delivered by speakers of wide prominence: Gen. Marion C. Butler, who fought with Gen. Hampton and who was one of his most intimate friends, has accepted an invitation to deliver the principal address at the unveiling.

CAN COMBINE CITIES IF IT IS DESIRED

Pittsburg and Allegheny City Can Unite if They So Desire According to Law.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—The superior court today handed down a decision favorable to the consolidation of Pittsburg and Allegheny City into one city.

CRAPSEY SENTENCED TO BE SUSPENDED

Noted Case in the Episcopal Church Has Been Decided Against Pastor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Rev. Dr. Algernon Crapsey of St. Andrews Episcopal church, Rochester, is condemned to suspension from the church for heretical teachings as a result of the ecclesiastical court reviews made public today.

ROOSEVELT GETS BUSY ON THE PANAMA QUESTION NOW

Saw What Was Needed And Signs Order Making Several Radical Changes In Government.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Nov. 19.—An order signed on the isthmus of Panama by President Roosevelt making radical changes in the organization of affairs of government for the Canal Zone was made public today. In effect the order is to place the canal work and the government Zone under the direction of Chairman Shonts aided by Chiefs of Bureaus, who will report directly to the commission, thus eliminating the office of governor.

POPE RECEIVES TELEGRAM THAT HE IS TO BE KILLED

High Pontiff Of The Roman Catholic Church Told That His Life Is Being Sought.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Rome, Nov. 19.—The Pope has received a personal telegram containing threats that he will be assassinated in the Apostolic palace as protest against the present organization of the society. The anarchists, it is added, are ready to employ every means to destroy all the institutions supported by religious or military forces.

TRUSTED EMPLOYEE LEAVES BIG SHORTAGE IN AFFAIRS

Menominee, Michigan, Man, Disappears After Years Of Faithful Service.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Menominee, Mich., Nov. 19.—Geo. Stone, since childhood a protégé of J. S. Goodman, a Chicago lumberman, and who was in charge of the latter's big affairs here, is missing. It is said that there is a big shortage in his accounts and his mother is five thousand dollars out. Worthless checks are appearing at the banks. He was very prominent socially.

ROCKTON MEN PLAN BIG POWER HOUSE

Would Furnish Electricity to Many Cities, Including Chicago—For Interurbans Too.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., Nov. 19.—F. M. Coons, owner of a paper mill, and the Gardner-Smith company, a manufacturing concern, both at Rockton, Ill., are contemplating the building of a dam across Rock river at that point, which now furnishes a thousand horsepower. By raising the dam a few feet this power could be greatly increased and an immense amount of electricity be manufactured. If the project is carried out electric power could be furnished to Rockford, Beloit, Janesville and many other cities, including Chicago. The company would also seek to get contracts with interurban and street railway corporations.

MISSED DEATH THREE TIMES THIS MORNING

Farmer Near Amherst Has Three Narrow Escapes From Death by Trains.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Amherst, Nov. 19.—August Petoka of Stockton escaped death three times under two trains in a few minutes today. His wagon was struck by the Green Bay Western; his horses ran away into the Wisconsin Central cut and they were struck again. The horses then dragged him to a bridge where the same train which had backed up to find him was flagged in time to save Petoka. He may recover.

SHOT POLICEMAN IN FIGHT FOR LIBERTY

Ex-Convict Kills Officer and is Badly Wounded Himself in the Encounter.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Nov. 19.—As a result of a pistol fight this morning, during an attempt by a policeman to arrest Chas. Hanson, an ex-convict, and a companion, for robbing a Hammond, Ind., store last night, Policeman Luke Fitzpatrick is dead and Hanson is dying.

ONE MILLION TO BE GIVEN BY CARNEGIE

Millionaire Steel Man Would Have Universal Peace Money Can Buy It.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Louis, Nov. 19.—The Post dispatches says: "Congressman Bartholdt left this morning for New York at the invitation of Andrew Carnegie who has promised to turn over to him one million dollars to be used in furthering the propaganda for an international peace. The matter has been under consideration for some time."

ENTHRONE NEW BISHOP ON DECEMBER THIRD

Milwaukee, Nov. 19.—Bishop Webb will be enthroned December 3. Bishop White of Michigan City will preach.

latter's big affairs here, is missing. It is said that there is a big shortage in his accounts and his mother is five thousand dollars out. Worthless checks are appearing at the banks. He was very prominent socially.

HARRY THAW INSANE WHEN SHOT FIRED

Wealthy Pittsburgh Youth is Now Said to Have Been Crazy When He Fired Shot.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Nov. 19.—That Harry K. Thaw was insane when he shot and killed Stanford White is expressed as the opinion of three alienists who examined the prisoner at the instance of his counsel. Their report to this effect was made today.

PLEADS FOR GUILTY TO CHARGE BROUGHT

Director of the Standard Oil Company in Findlay, Ohio, Enters His Plea.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Findlay, O., Nov. 19.—H. P. McIntosh, of Cleveland, director of the Standard Oil company, indicted by a grand jury last week, today pleaded not guilty and was released on a thousand dollar bail.

ANOTHER RAILROAD GRANTS AN INCREASE

Norfolk and Western Line Follows Lead Set by its Big Competitors.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Norfolk, Va., Nov. 19.—The Norfolk and Western railway beginning December 1st will grant an increase of ten per cent in the wages of all employees receiving less than $200 per month.

FORMER SUPERVISOR GIVEN LARGE FINE

Milwaukee Gaffer Who Squealed on Whole Gang Let Off with a Fine.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 19.—Jacob Schultz, a former supervisor, pleaded guilty to grafting this afternoon and was fined two hundred dollars and costs. He was once convicted of the same charge and served three months and then got a new trial and gave evidence on which scores of others were indicted.

BISHOP ATTACKED MARRIAGE ON TRIAL

Successor of Late J. L. Nicholson Said Nation Was Threatened by Such Radicalism.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Nov. 19.—Bishop Webb of the Wisconsin Episcopal diocese in a sermon at Cincinnati yesterday bitterly attacked the "Maria on Trial" schemes recently promulgated and said the nation is threatened by such radicalism. "It is impossible," he continued, "for anything but licentiousness to result from such schemes."

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.
T. W. NUZUM, M. D.,
Surgeon and Physician
Office hours: 10 to 12, 2 to 4, and 7:30 to 8:30. Office 321 Hayes Block. Residence 407 Court street. Tel.: New, No. 1033. Residence Phones—New 923, white; Old 2512.

CORRYDON G. DWIGHT, M. D.
207 Jackson Bldg.
Practice Limited to EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT
Consultation from 9 to 12 and 2 to 5 and by appointment.
New Phone 890 Old Phone 2762

Dr. T. F. Kennedy
DENTIST.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK A SPECIALTY.
Tallman Bldg. Over Badger Drugstore.

E. F. & J. V. NORCROSS
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.
701 1/2 Marquette Building.
Long Distance Phone, Central 4772.

EDITH V. BARTLETT, M. D.
SPECIALIST
Diseases of Women and Children and Nervous Diseases a Specialty.
212 Jackson Block.
Office Phone No. 372. Res. 616 Red.

J. J. CUNNINGHAM,
LAWYER.
No. 215 Hayes Block.
Janesville, Wis.

THE "RACKET"
DON'T TURN PALE WHEN YOU SEE OUR PRICE
ON PAIRS.

10-qt. Tin Pails	10c
12-qt. Tin Pails	23c
2-qt. Tin Pails	7c
8-qt. Tin Pails	15c
1-qt. Tin Pails	5c
2-qt. Milk Pails	10c
1-qt. Galvanized Pails	15c
14-qt. Fibre Pails	39c
14-qt. Granite Pails	59c
2-qt. Granite Pails	28c
1-qt. Granite Pails	25c

"THE RACKET"
63 West Milwaukee St.

PROVES NORTHMEN DISCOVERED AMERICA

Prof. Julius E. Olson Publishes Book Giving Evidence of Discovery of America Before Columbus.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 19.—That Norse literature affords indisputable evidence of the discovery of America by the northmen is the conclusion reached by Professor Julius E. Olson of the department of Scandinavian languages at the University of Wisconsin in the volume "The Northmen, Columbus, and Cabot," just published. After a most careful survey of all the old Norse sagas and Icelandic history and literature, Professor Olson says: "The incontrovertible facts of the various Norse expeditions are that Leif Ericsson and Thorfinn Karlsefni are as surely historical characters as Christopher Columbus, that they visited, in the early part of the eleventh century, some part of North America where the grape grew, and that in that region the colonists found savages whose hostility upset their plans of permanent settlement."

Compares Sagas
Among the Icelandic sagas are found original narratives of American history of an earlier date than are elsewhere found. These are the prose sagas of the voyage of the northmen to Vinland, the two most important of which are the "Saga of Eric the Red" and the "Vinland History of the Flat Island Book." The latter is a history composed of two disjointed accounts found in a five volume manuscript known as the "Flat Island Book" because it was long owned by a family living on Flat Island in Broad Tirth, on the northwest coast of Iceland. On a comparison of these two, and on the internal evidence they give, corroborated by carefully preserved Icelandic genealogies, Professor Olson establishes the trustworthiness of the saga narratives, and hence the northmen's priority of discovery of the mainland of the American continent over Columbus and Cabot. In the "Saga of Eric the Red" is the tale of Leif Ericsson's voyage in the year 1000 from Greenland to Helluland (land of flat stones), which a comparison of records proves to have been some part of Labrador. The same saga contains detailed descriptions of voyages made by Thorfinn Karlsefni and Snorri of Alþingr to Vinland, which was a part of Nova Scotia and to Markland, or Newfoundland. In the "Vinland History of the Flat Island Book" are descriptions of the voyages of Leif Ericsson to Vinland and Markland, which, on account of details of the narrative, such as descriptions of the flora and fauna, the geographical peculiarities, and the careful nautical observations as to direction and length of time of the journey, are identified, certainly as Nova Scotia and Newfoundland.

Substitutes Year 1000 for 1492
In one narrative of the Flat Island Book the first sighting of the American mainland is claimed for one Bjarni Herjulfson, but as this man is nowhere mentioned in all the rich genealogical history or tradition of Iceland, though there is much alleged information as to the man alleged in the tale to be his father, the authenticity of the claim is seriously questioned. As collateral proof of the verity of other portions of the sagas quoted, Professor Olson has included in his work copies of Pontifical letters found in the archives at Rome, in which mention is made of men and conditions of which the sagas treat. The proofs which Professor Olson brings forth are of much historical value, establishing, as they do, the unquestionable fact that Leif Ericsson, not Columbus, was the discoverer of the American continent, and supplementing the year 1000 for that of 1492 as the beginning of American written history.

CELADON BASSETT PASSED AWAY

Prominent in Business in Janesville for Nearly Forty Years—An Honest and God-Fearing Character.

The friends of Celadon Bassett, of the Bassett & Echlin Saddle Company, will be surprised to learn of his sudden death, which occurred at five o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Myers hotel. Mr. Bassett returned from Boston, after a prolonged visit, a month ago. While his health was somewhat impaired, he was able to attend to business.

He entertained his niece, Mrs. H. J. Cunningham, and her husband at dinner yesterday, intending to call on them later in the afternoon, as was his custom. Mr. Cunningham noticed that he was not looking well, and shortly before five o'clock called at the hotel to inquire for him.

He found him suffering from an attack of heart failure, and Dr. Palmer, who had been promptly summoned, in attendance with Mr. Sam Echlin. The severe pain yielded to treatment, and he spoke of being more comfortable, but the next moment was gone.

Celadon Bassett was born in Chelsea, Mass., seventy-three years ago. He came to Janesville in 1868 and engaged in business with the wholesale saddlery firm of Hayner & Bliss. A few years later Mr. Hayner retired, and the firm was known as Bassett, Bliss & Company until 1878, when J. C. Echlin's name was added.

The store now occupied by H. L. McNamara was built for them, and occupied by the business for twenty years or more. In 1883 Mr. Bliss retired from the firm and the business has since been done under the name of Bassett & Echlin, the company being added when incorporated as a stock company two years ago.

A business career of nearly forty years, noted for honesty and uprightness, is the record of the life which has just gone out. Most business men are honest; a few are scrupulously honest. To this class Mr. Bassett belonged.

He believed that it was just as wrong to take advantage of a corporation as of an individual, and that requires more than common honesty. The railroad conductor who overlooked him on the train was always hunted up, for he had no desire to beat the railroad.

Thus, it was in all the details of business, fair and honorable, in every transaction and expecting the same fair treatment in return. A good judge of human nature, he had no time for cant or hypocrisy, but confidence, security, meant steadfast friendship and loyalty.

Few people knew him well, because his business did not bring him in contact with the city, and his retiring disposition, and love of quiet life, kept him out of society, but his life was an inspiration to the friends who enjoyed his comradeship, and who appreciated his rugged honesty and practical common sense.

Mr. Bassett never married. He was the last of an old English family. His father was elected city treasurer of Chelsea for forty years, and was known as "Uncle Sam" Bassett because his uprightness and ability in official life kept him in office without opposition.

Mr. Bassett was well born, and he honored his birthright by an unblemished life. He was methodical and his home was always kept in order.

He said to a friend Saturday evening: "My eyes are going back on me, and I find it hard work to recognize people on the street, but then I am growing old, and the doctor tells me that I may go out suddenly at any time."

But there was neither complaint nor worry in the tone. He was ready for any emergency, walking close to the edge of time without fear, for his life work was accomplished, and who shall say that it was not well done?

Mr. Bassett had been a Congregationalist from boyhood, and was one of the staunch supporters of the church in Janesville. His piety was neither spasmodic nor emotional, but like everything else about him, rung true.

He was an honest Christian gentleman of the highest type, and his influence, while unobtrusive, was of the sort which helps to keep pure and wholesome the foundations of commercial and social life. The world is better because he passed through it, leaving an impress which will live on into the years ahead.

Arrangements for the burial can not be completed until the return of his nephew, Mr. Frank Echlin, who is expected to arrive from the north tonight. The remains will doubtless rest in the family grounds in Chelsea.

IGNORES LA FOLLETTE CHARGE.
"It's a Waste of Lather to Shave an Ass," Senator Fulton's Answer to Accusation.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—(Special)—Senator Robert Marion La Follette of Wisconsin made a speech at Portland, Ore., last night, in which he classed Senator Charles William Fulton of Oregon with the so-called railroaders, declined.

Senator Fulton, who is here, when asked to answer Senator La Follette's criticism, declined.

"It's a waste of lather to shave an ass," as Sancho Panza said," he added.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.
Clark I. Miller and wife to Frank W. Akin, $3,035. W 1/2 of ne 1/4 ex. pt. e 1/2 of ne 1/4 sec. 24-12.

Charles J. Kenna and wife to Harriet C. Horton, $1. S 1/2 lot 9 and n. 3/4 lot 10, blk. 16, Beloit.

William H. Hollister and wife to Violetta M. Crawley, $75. Und. 1/2 int. in lot 13-4. Noggles, Add., Beloit.

LITTLE MISS ORA PAUL CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY
In Company with Forty Playmates at Her Home on Milton Avenue Saturday.

Forty playmates joined with little Miss Ora Paul in the celebration of her eighth birthday anniversary at the home of her mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Paul, on Milton avenue, Saturday afternoon. A series of interesting games were played by the young people and a delicious luncheon was served.

CELADON BASSETT PASSED AWAY

Prominent in Business in Janesville for Nearly Forty Years—An Honest and God-Fearing Character.

The friends of Celadon Bassett, of the Bassett & Echlin Saddle Company, will be surprised to learn of his sudden death, which occurred at five o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Myers hotel. Mr. Bassett returned from Boston, after a prolonged visit, a month ago. While his health was somewhat impaired, he was able to attend to business.

He entertained his niece, Mrs. H. J. Cunningham, and her husband at dinner yesterday, intending to call on them later in the afternoon, as was his custom. Mr. Cunningham noticed that he was not looking well, and shortly before five o'clock called at the hotel to inquire for him.

He found him suffering from an attack of heart failure, and Dr. Palmer, who had been promptly summoned, in attendance with Mr. Sam Echlin. The severe pain yielded to treatment, and he spoke of being more comfortable, but the next moment was gone.

Celadon Bassett was born in Chelsea, Mass., seventy-three years ago. He came to Janesville in 1868 and engaged in business with the wholesale saddlery firm of Hayner & Bliss. A few years later Mr. Hayner retired, and the firm was known as Bassett, Bliss & Company until 1878, when J. C. Echlin's name was added.

The store now occupied by H. L. McNamara was built for them, and occupied by the business for twenty years or more. In 1883 Mr. Bliss retired from the firm and the business has since been done under the name of Bassett & Echlin, the company being added when incorporated as a stock company two years ago.

A business career of nearly forty years, noted for honesty and uprightness, is the record of the life which has just gone out. Most business men are honest; a few are scrupulously honest. To this class Mr. Bassett belonged.

He believed that it was just as wrong to take advantage of a corporation as of an individual, and that requires more than common honesty. The railroad conductor who overlooked him on the train was always hunted up, for he had no desire to beat the railroad.

Thus, it was in all the details of business, fair and honorable, in every transaction and expecting the same fair treatment in return. A good judge of human nature, he had no time for cant or hypocrisy, but confidence, security, meant steadfast friendship and loyalty.

Few people knew him well, because his business did not bring him in contact with the city, and his retiring disposition, and love of quiet life, kept him out of society, but his life was an inspiration to the friends who enjoyed his comradeship, and who appreciated his rugged honesty and practical common sense.

Mr. Bassett never married. He was the last of an old English family. His father was elected city treasurer of Chelsea for forty years, and was known as "Uncle Sam" Bassett because his uprightness and ability in official life kept him in office without opposition.

Mr. Bassett was well born, and he honored his birthright by an unblemished life. He was methodical and his home was always kept in order.

He said to a friend Saturday evening: "My eyes are going back on me, and I find it hard work to recognize people on the street, but then I am growing old, and the doctor tells me that I may go out suddenly at any time."

But there was neither complaint nor worry in the tone. He was ready for any emergency, walking close to the edge of time without fear, for his life work was accomplished, and who shall say that it was not well done?

Mr. Bassett had been a Congregationalist from boyhood, and was one of the staunch supporters of the church in Janesville. His piety was neither spasmodic nor emotional, but like everything else about him, rung true.

He was an honest Christian gentleman of the highest type, and his influence, while unobtrusive, was of the sort which helps to keep pure and wholesome the foundations of commercial and social life. The world is better because he passed through it, leaving an impress which will live on into the years ahead.

Arrangements for the burial can not be completed until the return of his nephew, Mr. Frank Echlin, who is expected to arrive from the north tonight. The remains will doubtless rest in the family grounds in Chelsea.

IGNORES LA FOLLETTE CHARGE.
"It's a Waste of Lather to Shave an Ass," Senator Fulton's Answer to Accusation.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—(Special)—Senator Robert Marion La Follette of Wisconsin made a speech at Portland, Ore., last night, in which he classed Senator Charles William Fulton of Oregon with the so-called railroaders, declined.

Senator Fulton, who is here, when asked to answer Senator La Follette's criticism, declined.

"It's a waste of lather to shave an ass," as Sancho Panza said," he added.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.
Clark I. Miller and wife to Frank W. Akin, $3,035. W 1/2 of ne 1/4 ex. pt. e 1/2 of ne 1/4 sec. 24-12.

Charles J. Kenna and wife to Harriet C. Horton, $1. S 1/2 lot 9 and n. 3/4 lot 10, blk. 16, Beloit.

William H. Hollister and wife to Violetta M. Crawley, $75. Und. 1/2 int. in lot 13-4. Noggles, Add., Beloit.

LITTLE MISS ORA PAUL CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY
In Company with Forty Playmates at Her Home on Milton Avenue Saturday.

Forty playmates joined with little Miss Ora Paul in the celebration of her eighth birthday anniversary at the home of her mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Paul, on Milton avenue, Saturday afternoon. A series of interesting games were played by the young people and a delicious luncheon was served.

HOW LEAF GROWERS CAN FORM COMBINE

Details of Organization in Story From Winchester, Ky., Where Work Is Being Done.

Winchester, Ky., November 19.—At the convention of the National Tobacco Growers' Association held here recently, a movement to organize the entire tobacco district during the next month was inaugurated. The purpose is to secure profitable prices at all times for the tobacco grown in the district. The association consists of six towns, the local, county, district, state, department and national unions, and more farmers can unite and form a local union, each paying a membership fee of one dollar and annual dues amounting to $1.20. The membership fees are intended to be used to promote organization and the dues to maintain it. The entire membership fee is forwarded to the state union. Twenty cents of the annual dues remains in the local treasury, twenty cents is placed in the county union treasury, twenty cents in the state union and the balance sent to the National Union. The members are furnished with official papers explaining the principles of the society. The department union is the actual business end of the association, in which no dues are required. Each crop is handled by its department and only the actual producers of a crop can take active part in the work. The department union arranges for the crop reports, price-making and manages the marketing. The tobacco department of the American Society of Equity of which the National Tobacco Growers' Association is a part, was organized at Lynchburg, Va., in November 1904. It has organized four district unions: Virginia Dark Tobacco Growers' Association, Stemming District Association, the Green River District Association and the Burley Growers' Branch. In response to the question of how to sell the tobacco crop at a profitable price, the Association says:

Secure control of the larger portion of the crop. Agree upon a minimum price for each grade and refuse to sell until that price is forthcoming. It can be done, for sooner or later the world is going to have that tobacco, even though it must pay you a profitable price. Place the tobacco in the hands of the district board and constitute it the sales agent for your tobacco. This board will be composed of the best farmers in the district and they will get all for the tobacco that there is in it, and much more than each individual could get for himself.

"THE CASH BOY TALKS."
"Say, Boss," remarked our cash boy this morning, "my new red hot for this tobacco ownership. I don't know what that is, but paw says everybody is going to own everything and divide up the profits. He was telling me about it last night."

"Ma asked him where the people would get the money to buy those things, as they would cost millions of dollars."

"Paw said, 'issue bonds.'"

"Yes, said ma, 'but how will you pay the bonds when they are due?'"

"Issue more bonds," said paw.

"But how about the interest?" said ma. "Won't you have to tax the people for that?"

"Why, no," said paw. "Pay the interest with bonds."

"I don't see how you could do that," said ma.

"You don't eh?" replied paw. "Now, when we went to housekeeping, didn't I pay for all our furniture by giving a note, and when it came due, didn't I give the man another note? You want to know nothing about finance. You wait until the minnie-sickie ownership gets in power, we will divide the profits among the people, and no one will have to work. We will all be Vanderbilts. Won't you be proud of your husband when he becomes part owner of all public utilities? You see, madam, there are some things you don't know."

"And then paw looked wise. Ma stood and gazed at him for some time, and then said:

"Yes, there are some things I don't know, and one of those things is this: If there is a man more fit for the lunatic asylum than you, I don't know him."

"Then I commenced to whistle. Everybody works but Daddy. Say, boss, you see that lump on the back of my head? Paw has had that lump poked at him before, and I wasn't looking when his old shoe came flying my way."—Yonkers Statesman.

Good Clothes
That's what every young man wants, but few realize the significance of the term. They are too busy with other matters to find out why some clothes fit better, look better and wear better than others. The difference between young men's clothes and just ordinary clothes is remarkably apparent.

"VIKING SYSTEM"

Every "Viking System" garment is the work of artists, who put into every part expert workmanship and individuality, which comes only with years of experience in fashioning young men's high-grade clothes. All styles are represented single and double-breasted.

We guarantee "Viking System" suits and overcoats in every respect. Look for the label—it's your safety.

AMOS RENBERG & CO.

Winchester, Ky., November 19.—At the convention of the National Tobacco Growers' Association held here recently, a movement to organize the entire tobacco district during the next month was inaugurated. The purpose is to secure profitable prices at all times for the tobacco grown in the district. The association consists of six towns, the local, county, district, state, department and national unions, and more farmers can unite and form a local union, each paying a membership fee of one dollar and annual dues amounting to $1.20. The membership fees are intended to be used to promote organization and the dues to maintain it. The entire membership fee is forwarded to the state union. Twenty cents of the annual dues remains in the local treasury, twenty cents is placed in the county union treasury, twenty cents in the state union and the balance sent to the National Union. The members are furnished with official papers explaining the principles of the society. The department union is the actual business end of the association, in which no dues are required. Each crop is handled by its department and only the actual producers of a crop can take active part in the work. The department union arranges for the crop reports, price-making and manages the marketing. The tobacco department of the American Society of Equity of which the National Tobacco Growers' Association is a part, was organized at Lynchburg, Va., in November 1904. It has organized four district unions: Virginia Dark Tobacco Growers' Association, Stemming District Association, the Green River District Association and the Burley Growers' Branch. In response to the question of how to sell the tobacco crop at a profitable price, the Association says:

Secure control of the larger portion of the crop. Agree upon a minimum price for each grade and refuse to sell until that price is forthcoming. It can be done, for sooner or later the world is going to have that tobacco, even though it must pay you a profitable price. Place the tobacco in the hands of the district board and constitute it the sales agent for your tobacco. This board will be composed of the best farmers in the district and they will get all for the tobacco that there is in it, and much more than each individual could get for himself.

"THE CASH BOY TALKS."
"Say, Boss," remarked our cash boy this morning, "my new red hot for this tobacco ownership. I don't know what that is, but paw says everybody is going to own everything and divide up the profits. He was telling me about it last night."

"Ma asked him where the people would get the money to buy those things, as they would cost millions of dollars."

"Paw said, 'issue bonds.'"

"Yes, said ma, 'but how will you pay the bonds when they are due?'"

"Issue more bonds," said paw.

"But how about the interest?" said ma. "Won't you have to tax the people for that?"

"Why, no," said paw. "Pay the interest with bonds."

"I don't see how you could do that," said ma.

"You don't eh?" replied paw. "Now, when we went to housekeeping, didn't I pay for all our furniture by giving a note, and when it came due, didn't I give the man another note? You want to know nothing about finance. You wait until the minnie-sickie ownership gets in power, we will divide the profits among the people, and no one will have to work. We will all be Vanderbilts. Won't you be proud of your husband when he becomes part owner of all public utilities? You see, madam, there are some things you don't know."

APPRECIATION OF SISTERS OF MERCY

For Donations from Ladies of St. Patrick's Church, Is Expressed.

The ladies of St. Patrick's parish have placed the Sisters of Mercy under many obligations, which the latter take pleasure in acknowledging. They have recently presented a beautiful rich green carpet which harmonizes well with the polished hardwood floor that the rugs give the whole chapel an artistic finishing stroke, which makes it the admiration of all. May God reward the donors.

The electric lights are the gift of the Young Ladies' Sodality. The Sisters know that they will be pleased to learn how much pleasure and comfort their gift imparts to our convent home, and how many a fervent prayer is whispered for the dear girls to whom we are deeply indebted.

There are other societies of ladies in the parish who, as yet, have not donated as a body, but we know they will, and now that the work is done and the contractors are expecting their compensation for material and labor we hope our friends will continue to contribute until all debts for repairs are paid. We know those ladies will get up some of their devices for raising money for benevolent purposes. Earnestly soliciting the aid of those who have not contributed, and offering most grateful thanks to all our benefactors, for whom we constantly pray for heaven's choicest blessings, SISTERS OF MERCY.

SALE OF BONDS.
Bids will be received at the City Treasurer's office up to 2 o'clock P. M., Monday, Nov. 19th, 1906, for the sale of $120,000 in street improvement bonds. Denomination, $40 to $100 each, due in one to five years.

J. F. HUTCHINSON, Mayor.
JAS. A. FATHERS, Treas.

There is a good job waiting for men and women with brains. They must hustle at the time. Why not become a hustler by taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea? Tea or Tablets, 35 cents. Smith Drug Co.

Spruce Becoming Scarce.
The demand for paper has made the supply problem one that has grown and is growing rapidly. There has never been an era like the present for cheap printed matter. This is the day of the newspaper, the newspaper uses wood-pulp paper. The drain upon the spruce forests is so great that there may be a famine of that wood. Therefore an effort is being made to get another wood to replace it—a hard thing to do, since spruce is admittedly superior to others.

Mrs. Austin's Buckwheat has a world-wide reputation on account of its genuine buckwheat flavor. Don't forget the name.

BOYCOTT PILGRIMS ON WAY TO BENTON HARBOR.
Tom Pennington and Joe Tole Arrived Here Saturday from State of Washington.

Tom Pennington and Joe Tole, members of the religious sect of Israelites at Benton Harbor, Mich., arrived in Janesville on their bicycles from the state of Washington, Saturday, after a trip of nearly 2,000 miles. They departed for Chicago in the evening and expect to reach Benton Harbor early in the week.

Boerner's Fine Perfumes
"Roris" a distinct success.
"Dell-Bude" a delightful surprise.

McGUE & BUSS, The Druggists

Dolls.

Special Saturday Sale.

13-inch undressed Dolls, with bisque head, brown eyes, curly hair, pink cheeks

SPECIAL

10c

SAVINGS STORE.

WANT A GOOD SMOKE FREE?
Come in Friday and Saturday for our latest brand.
SMITH'S PHARMACY.

MYERS THEATRE
PETER L. MYERS, Manager.
New Phone 609. Wisconsin 3602

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20
ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY.
First Appearance in Janesville—The Best Singing Company in Comic Opera—

De Wolf Hopper
In De Koven & Ranken's Comedy Opera Classic.

HAPPYLAND.
MARQUERITE CLARK
William Danforth and 80 Others.

Gorgeous Production Enlarged Orchestra
PRICES—Orchestra and first two rows in circle, $2.00; balance circle, $1.50; balcony, first two rows, $2.00; next four rows balcony, $1.50; balance balcony, $1.00; Gallery, 50c; box seats, $2.00. Mail orders now. Free list suspended. Seats on sale Monday at 9 o'clock. Carriages at 11 o'clock.

FRANCIS C. GRANT
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Janesville, Wis.
Lovejoy Block Telephone 224.

WHY GO WEST?
to cure catarrh when we have a positive and permanent relief for you? Free this week.
SMITH'S PHARMACY.

WANTED!
100 ladies to try VAPOR-OL for colds and catarrh.
SMITH'S PHARMACY.

MANY FIRES IN TOWN

Did Little Damage and Were Really a Good Thing for Many People.

There were quite a number of small fires yesterday which were actually a good deal of benefit to many people. In the first place they helped the trade of Peoples' Drug Co., our popular druggists, as they sold the Wadsworth Bros. "Chicos" which were burned. Then they benefited the smokers, for it certainly is a benefit to any man to find a cigar for 5c that will give him more satisfaction than 10c cigars have before.

We might say truthfully that these cigars were a good thing for many others, as nothing makes a man more good natured than a satisfactory smoke, such as he always gets when he lights a "Chico."

Peoples' Drug Co. have secured the local agency for Wadsworth Bros. "

IF YOUR "MENTAL SCALES" ARE IN GOOD WORKING CONDITION, WEIGH THE BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY AND REA LESTATE ADS. ON THEM—AND WHEN YOU FIND ONE THAT SEEMS TO BE THE PROPER SORT, DON'T BE AFRAID TO INVESTIGATE IT FURTHER.

IF YOU WILL WORK AS HARD TO FIND A GOOD BUSINESS CHANCE AS YOU WOULD TO CATCH A FISH OR SHOOT A PHEASANT, YOU WILL PROSPER—ALTHOUGH, IF YOU READ THE WANT ADS. REGULARLY, YOU WILL NOT HAVE TO WORK AS HARD. 3 LINES 3 TIMES 25c.

WANT ADS.

WANTED

WANTED—Second girl. Apply to Mrs. N. L. Clark, 60 St. Lawrence Place.

WANTED—Sweeping and dusting, washing and ironing at your home. Good references. Inquire at 105 Caroline St.

SALESMEN—Wanted—Selling retail trade. Your locality $45 per month and expenses to start or commission. Experience unnecessary. Hiramingson Cigar Co., Toledo, O., Dept. 104.

BOARDING at 111 S. Main St. Mrs. T. S. Skelly.

WANTED—Woodworking of all kinds. M. E. Hill, both phones.

WANTED—A cook, small place. Also girls for hotel work and private homes. Mrs. E. McCarthy, 25 W. Milwaukee street.

WANTED—Lady in country. Would like elderly lady to assist with light part of work. No children. Address B. N. B. at Gazette.

WANTED—To trade a horse for hay, oats or corn. Address C. Gazette.

WANTED TO RENT—On shares, farm from 100 to 150 acres. Address Andrew Munn, Zoula, Wis.

WANTED—Information leading to the discovery of Julius Ward or his heirs. Property awaits them. M. P. Richardson, Suiter and Block.

WANTED—First class dry hammer man; one who has made steel, iron, shims, preferred. Address Factory, Gazette.

WANTED—Girl for general housework. Small family. Apply at once at 104 Park Place, Mrs. David Alvord.

WANTED—A neat dining-room girl. $5 per week. Ladies Employment Rooms, 215 S. Main St., Rockford, Ill.

WANTED—Girl in small family; good cook; quiet; position on local waiting. Many appointments. No experience necessary. 222 Interstate Bldg., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

WANTED—Men to learn barber trade. We prepare you for positions; $12 to $20 weekly. You can practically earn your tuition, tools and board before completing. Short time required; positions on local waiting. Write for free catalogue, Motor Barber College, Chicago, Ills.

MUSIC Lessons on the piano, violin, mandolin and vocal. Mrs. Josephine O'Hara, 55 Cent street, Janesville, Wis.

Male Help Wanted.—At once. Several young men to prepare for coming Wisconsin examination for Railway Mail Clerks. Permanent positions. Good salaries. Deserving consideration. Many appointments. No experience necessary. 222 Interstate Bldg., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

IF you want good farms at $15 to $25 per acre. Write or come and see me. Lands have face of charge. A. R. Kibbe, New Richmond, Wis.

WANTED—Laborers, Saturday. Inquire of George & Clemens plumbers.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Part of a house 100 Prospect avenue. Rent $50. Inquire at 17 Milton avenue.

FOR RENT—Two furnished or unfurnished rooms. Inquire at 50 Center St.

FOR RENT—Good furnished rooms with steam heat, gas and use of bath. With or without board. Close to city. Inquire at 215 S. Main street.

FOR RENT—An eight-room house at 217 S. Main street. Modern conveniences. Apply at 215 S. Main street.

FOR RENT—House at No. 2 Adams street. Inquire of J. J. Kelly, 50 Chatham street.

FOR RENT—A modern steam heated; furnished room, one block from Myers Hotel. Inquire at Waverly Flats, first floor.

FOR RENT—A nice room house; all modern conveniences. Geo. S. Parker.

FOR RENT—Two pleasant furnished rooms for one or two gentlemen. Reasonable to rent party. 217 Center St.

FOR RENT—Good eight-room house and barn on 100 acre Highland House.

FOR RENT—Five over Colvin's bakery on 100 acre Highland House; six rooms and city water. Outlook on Corn Exchange square and on Postoffice square. Possession given December 1st. M. P. Richardson.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—One thoroughbred yearling Poland China cock. F. W. Korn, Rockford, Ill.

FOR SALE—"Little Giant" McCormick husker and shredder. D. M. Barless.

FOR SALE—Seven-room house and barn; gas, city and soft water. Price $1,325. 104 Washington street.

I HAVE FOR SALE—Thirty-three acres of the very best tobacco and sugar-cane land, including the city limits at the east. John Cunningham, No. 23 West Milwaukee street.

FOR SALE—Seven-room house and barn; gas, city and soft water. Price $1,325. 104 Washington street.

FOR SALE—Good eight-room house and barn on 100 acre Highland House.

FOR SALE—Five over Colvin's bakery on 100 acre Highland House; six rooms and city water. Outlook on Corn Exchange square and on Postoffice square. Possession given December 1st. M. P. Richardson.

FOR SALE—A beautiful music cabinet, good as new. Price $15. Come and look at it. Inquire at Gazette Office.

FOR SALE—Five shares Wisconsin Rubber Co. stock, paying 10 per cent annual dividend. Next dividend will be paid in January next. For particulars address Rubber Stock, Gazette.

MISCELLANEOUS

L. NELSON, carpenter and joiner. All kinds of carpenter work done in first class order. Inside heating and stair building specialty. New phone block 255. 102 Glen St.

LOST—Two bull terrier pups, bitchies; both white, one with black nose. E. Ray Lloyd, old phone 444.

LOST—Necklace with black cross. Return to Gazette.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

LOST—A black hand bag containing purse, glasses and receipts. At Simpson's or between Simpson's and 105 S. Academy St. Finder kindly leave at above number or at Gazette office.

General Skallion.

Governor General of Moscow. This is one of Russia's most powerful political offices.

Before The Footlights.

"Who says there is nothing new under the theatrical sun?" delicately asks Burns Mantle in the Chicago Inter Ocean. "If any be so minded, let him see 'The Road to Yesterday'."

It is the first since novelty of the year and, with the possible exception of Mrs. Fisk's 'The New York Idea,' the most enjoyable play of the season. Not since Maude Adams came out of John Drew's company to charm the sentimental with her 'Lily' has there been as deliciously naive a performance given by an American actress as that which Minnie Dupree contributes in this new drama play.

'The Road to Yesterday' is a joyful tramp through all the lanes of romance that ever were discovered. W. L. Hubbard of the Chicago Tribune is equally enthusiastic in praise of this new comedy of fantasy, declaring it to be a surprise of the most agreeable and welcome kind. It is a comedy delightful in the sweet, wholesome, blithe humor that abounds throughout it, and it is a fantasy charming in whimsical, merry conceit. The audience come under the spell with approval unqualified. Every character is in competent hands, the setting is in the most possible taste, the costumes are elegant and rich and the stage management admirable. It is a play which scarcely could be bettered in any particular.

O. L. Hall exclaims: "The Road to Yesterday" is the happiest, prettiest, queerest, strangest little play that has come round in many a day. The reincarnation of 'Soul's' idea is treated in this drama in a unique sort of dream play within play.

Not since the days of 'Wang' has Mr. DeWolf Hopper had such great opportunities for the display of his ability as a funmaker as he has in his present season's offering 'Happyland.' The book, by Frederic Ranken, is a brilliant original and witty dialogue and the three songs composed for Mr. Hopper are among the funniest ever written. Mr. Hopper has been provided by the Messrs. Shubert, with a supporting company of unusual abilities. Numbering as it does nearly one hundred light-opera celebrities, including winsome and petite Marguerite Clark, the efforts of the managers to make 'Happyland' the foremost light opera organization apparently are fully realized. 'Happyland' with its beautiful productions of gorgeous scenery and the original company will visit the Myers theatre Tuesday, Nov. 20.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

Not since the days of 'Wang' has Mr. DeWolf Hopper had such great opportunities for the display of his ability as a funmaker as he has in his present season's offering 'Happyland.' The book, by Frederic Ranken, is a brilliant original and witty dialogue and the three songs composed for Mr. Hopper are among the funniest ever written. Mr. Hopper has been provided by the Messrs. Shubert, with a supporting company of unusual abilities. Numbering as it does nearly one hundred light-opera celebrities, including winsome and petite Marguerite Clark, the efforts of the managers to make 'Happyland' the foremost light opera organization apparently are fully realized. 'Happyland' with its beautiful productions of gorgeous scenery and the original company will visit the Myers theatre Tuesday, Nov. 20.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in writing the Auditorium management for seat reservations. The usual policy of that playhouse is to sell seats only one week in advance, but in order to accommodate the thousands who have selected different performances to attend, Mr. Milward Adams, director of the Chicago Auditorium, has decided to place on sale, beginning today, seats for all the remaining performances of the 'Ben-Hur' engagement. A special matinee is announced for Thanksgiving Day in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees of that week. The curtain is lifted on the Wednesday and Saturday matinees promptly at two o'clock, but the Thanksgiving matinee will not be started until 2:30 p. m.

The engagement of 'Ben-Hur' at the Chicago Auditorium closes on Saturday, December 8. The run of General Wallace's powerful historical romance, 'Ben-Hur,' so stupendously staged by Klaw & Erlanger at the big Chicago Auditorium, is to terminate on Saturday evening, December 8th. Bookings in Boston and New City that cannot be set aside causes the Wallace play to be withdrawn. For the past two months this attraction has proved a most potent factor in Chicago amusements. Hundreds from this vicinity have attended and now that the closing days are announced, interest will be stimulated. It is advisable, therefore, for those who intend witnessing General Wallace's mighty drama not to lose any time in

The Janesville Gazette

Business Office Open Saturday Evenings.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; colder tonight.

Suppose that you should hear today that your chief rival in business had decided to double his usual advertising space in this newspaper hereafter. Would you consider it good news for you? And yet it "too much advertising is bad for a merchant" why wouldn't it be good news for you?

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Daily Edition—By Carrier.

One Month.....$5.00
One Year.....$50.00
One Year, cash in advance.....5.00
Six Months, cash in advance.....2.50

Daily Edition—By Mail.

CASE IN ADVANCE.

One Month.....$4.00

One Year.....$40.00

One Year—Bureau Delivery in Rock County.....3.00

One Year—Bureau Delivery in Rock County.....1.50

Weekly Edition—One Year.....1.50

Long Distance Telephone, No. 77.

Editorial Rooms.....77-3

Business Office.....77-2

Job Room.....77-4

A NEW PROFESSION.

"The National Lumber Manufacturers' association has given the sum of $150,000," says the Wall Street Journal, "for the endowment of instruction in lumbering in the Yale Forest school. Four months of the year will be spent by the students in the lumber camp with their instructors. This shows how closely the practical pursuits of industry are being identified with the institutions of learning."

"It has long since been recognized that lumbering as a business has come to have problems which few if any men now in it are prepared to solve. Hence a new type of talent is required to rise to the emergency. The insufficiency of the self-made man is already demonstrated. The new man must combine the technical knowledge of the engineer and the scientific knowledge of the forester together with an acquaintance with commercial conditions and business management. He must know what the experience of the world has been in the solution of similar problems. To some such leadership we must look for the conservation of our forests from waste and ruin with which they are now threatened. By this means a new type of business ability will gradually come into control of the development of one of our great national elements of wealth, with advantage to all concerned."

This is a new departure and evidences the fact that the practical as well as the theoretical is necessary to a well-rounded education.

The school lays the foundation, but the great world of activity is the arena where all work is tested, and unless there enters into the structure the practical element as a part of the material used, the construction will be weak and faulty.

One of the grave problems which now confronts the nation is the waste of natural resources. It requires supernatural power to plant and develop a forest, while the work of destruction is wrought by human hands and with but little regard to consequences.

Some years ago a farmer ruined a tree on the lawn of the late Judge Conger. The judge was considerably exercised, and became more so when the man said, "Never mind. I'll pay for it." "Pay for it?" said the judge. "Pay for it? Do you think you can pay for a tree that it took God Almighty twenty years to grow?"

The National Lumber association is investing $150,000 to protect the forests, and in spending this money proposes to educate the young men who will have the question to deal with in the next decade. It is a wise investment, and will produce results.

PAPERS WORTH COUNTING.

This is the title of a book just issued by Geo. P. Rowell of New York. Rowell is the standard on newspaper circulation and is recognized as authority in the newspaper field, the same as Dunn and Bradstreet are recognized in the commercial world.

Rowell runs a clearing house for all newspapers published in the United States, and from his directory, published once a year, may be obtained all the information that he is able to secure from publishers as to circulation, whether claimed or sworn to, before a notary.

He has popularized the principle that the advertising public is entitled to know what it is paying for when money is invested, until today there are no papers worth considering who do not open their books to patrons, and prove for their benefit the circulation claimed.

Some years ago Rowell established a roll of honor, open to all papers which furnished a detailed daily circulation statement for one year, and attested to its truthfulness by affidavit.

This was backed up by a guarantee to pay $100 to any man who proved that the statement was false, and to the credit of American publishers it can be said, that in only two instances was the money forfeited.

The Gazette has enjoyed the distinction of being on the roll of honor list for some time and in the handbook under discussion is rated as follows:

Copies printed daily in 1895—2947.

Copies printed daily in 1905—3140.

Reference to the circulation figures printed on the first page in the upper left-hand corner show a healthy increase for 1906.

These figures are taken from a daily press report, signed by the pressman and circulator, and made out every day after the issue is printed.

This report shows where the papers go, and how they are circulated, and is open to inspection by advertisers at any time. Of its competitor in the local field, the handbook says:

"The daily edition of this paper had credit for issuing more than 1000 copies regularly in the years 1895 and 1896, but has not since set up any claim for issuing so many."

This tells the circulation story, and the authority back of the statement will not be questioned. It is the kind of information to which the advertiser is entitled, for it gives him an intelligent idea as to how to invest his money.

The Gazette will be pardoned for saying that the paper compares favorably with the best inland papers in the state, and is the rival of the most of them. It covers the home field thoroughly and is an effective advertising medium.

It cost Hearst $250,000 to run for governor of New York, while the campaign expenses of Governor-elect Hughes were only $618. Money is a great power, but men and principles are greater, and this the Empire state people fully recognized.

The Royal Arcanum succeeded in advancing its rates sufficiently to prolong its life for a few years, with a net loss of only 10,000 members. The organization now has a membership of 240,000 and has managed to freeze out a good many old men who were dead timber. The rates on young men are still too low for safety, as the company will find by the test of experience.

Mr. J. J. Hill, the railroad magnate, said in a recent speech that the nation's traffic had increased 110 per cent during the last ten years, while the mileage had increased but 20 per cent. This indicates that in spite of great activity the railroads are not able to keep pace with the development of the country.

Governor Cummins of Iowa was elected by only 20,000 majority. The state is good for four times that number, when harmony prevails in the republican party. The tariff reform governor can afford to do a little sober thinking.

Wisconsin's junior senator is attempting to make hay while the sun shines. He expects to capture the electoral vote of the western 1908, and is doing the preliminary work two years in advance. The scheme may work and then again perhaps it won't.

Greek-Bulgarian Murder.

Athens, Nov. 19.—Reports are being received here constantly concerning the activity of brigands in the Saloniki district. It is declared that a number of men, women and children have been massacred at Kossuico and Ramelli and that a band killed 15 Greeks in the neighborhood of Nicausta; and carried their mutilated bodies into that town.

Famous Collie Is Dead.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The collie "The Commodore," exhibited at many kennel shows in the United States as one of the English champion foxhounds, and grandson of J. Pierpont Morgan's international ribbon winner Robert Ormond, died here Sunday. He was eight years old.

Brakeman Killed in Wreck.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19.—One man was killed and two injured in a rear-end collision of freight train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road near the western limits of the city Sunday. The dead man is Brakeman William Bates, of this city.

$150,000 Fee in Oil Suit.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The stupendous fee or salary of $150,000 a year, according to a report from Washington Saturday, is to be paid Attorney John S. Miller of Chicago to conduct the defense of the Standard Oil company in the federal cases.

Eight "Buried Alive" Rescued.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 19.—Effective work on the part of a rescuing party saved the lives of at least seven of eight workmen entombed by a cave-in in a deep well at the plant of the Indiana Distilling company.

When the cave-in occurred the men were at work at the bottom of the well.

Six of the men were badly cut and crushed and one will probably die.

Fatal Wreck in Colorado.

Leadville, Col., Nov. 19.—Conductor Frank Land is dead, and Brakeman Burnside is fatally hurt as the result of an accident on the Alpine branch of the Colorado & Southern railroad. A train of 17 loaded coal cars broke loose while climbing a heavy grade and plunging down the incline at terrific speed, were ditched about two miles from the station at St. Elmo.

Murderer Is Under Arrest.

Muskogee, I. T., Nov. 19.—Ira G. Campbell, who shot and killed George Sullivan, the latter's son-in-law, Martin Warren, and a negro preacher, Thomas Field, in a drug store at Taft, I. T., was arrested Sunday.

The shooting grew out of the forced marriage of Sullivan's daughter to the prisoner's nephew, Ed. Campbell.

Treaty Is Ratified.

Madrid, Nov. 19.—The Swiss-Spanish commercial treaty has been ratified and will become effective November 20. It grants several special reductions below the minimum tariff, of which the United States, under the most favored nation clause of the recent treaty, will obtain the benefit.

HERO OF INDIAN FIGHT

Thrilling Incident In General James W. Forsyth's Career.

THE CHEYENNE'S LAST CHARGE.

Famous Indian Fighter's Gallant Stand Against Hundreds of Bloodthirsty Redskins In a Hide Pit on Dry Fork In 1895—Hot Fight of a Small Band of Scouts.

The late Major General James W. Forsyth's most distinguished service to Kansas was rendered at the time of the famous Cheyenne Indian raid in September, 1895, when the tribe broke out of Wyoming and came on a tour of devastation down across Nebraska into northwest Kansas and threatened to sweep across the state.

The tribes of the region opposed the construction of the Kansas Pacific railroad and began to raid and kill over a widespread territory of thriving settlements. Their deeds were such that no white man able to handle a weapon could stay the passion of revenge.

General Forsyth, who was then a colonel, was on staff duty at Fort Wallace and had no followers, but in the excitement of the hour drummed up fifty unemployed scouts, mounted, and equipped in their own wild fashion, and placed himself and men under military orders. The second in command was Lieutenant F. H. Beecher.

The command started for the scene of the most recent depredations reported at Fort Wallace and struck a trail on a branch of Republican river on Sept. 14. They followed the trail two days without seeing a redskin, but evidences pointed to their presence in the vicinity. They were trying to mislead and ambush the daring party.

The afternoon of Sept. 16 Colonel Forsyth halted and established camp on Dry Fork, a stream with but a few inches of water. He was in the center of a plain skirted with hills and dotted with clumps of stunted trees. Late in the afternoon a band of several hundred Indians rushed from cover and attempted to stampede the animals that were grazing near the camp. They were repulsed, and Colonel Forsyth, assuming this demonstration to be the forerunner of a grand attack, moved his force to an island in the middle of the water course. The island bore a few low trees. The morning of Sept. 17 every man was alert before day light, and not a moment too soon. The horses were tied in the bushes close at hand, and while several picked marks men kept up a fire on the nearest Indians their companions dug rifle pits and made a circle of them so as to receive the enemy on all sides.

The Indians kept up a steady fire with their improved repeating rifles and coolly took position in easy range, boys with bows and arrows stealing up very close by crawling on the ground. A shower of bullets and arrows soon announced the onslaught of numbers. Colonel Forsyth bade his men hold their fire and save ammunition for the trying moment. Not a shot was fired until the savages came within easy reach. Then a rapid fire was opened, sending down the front lines of warriors. At the head rode the war chief of the Cheyennes, Roman Nose, a typical savage of the wilds. Roman Nose fell within a few feet of the rifle pits, and the painted bucks that survived the terrible volley of death shrank back appalled at the spectacle.

It was nearly midday, and Colonel Forsyth was not long in divining the true situation. He was surrounded by immense numbers of bloodthirsty redskins, which afterward proved to be Cheyennes and Sioux over 900 strong.

Colonel Forsyth and his little band kept up the fighting until dark, making a third charge at the close of the day. The losses in Forsyth's band had been severe. Every horse and mule had been killed in its tracks. Lieutenant Beecher was killed, four scouts were dead in their pits, a volunteer surgeon, Dr. Moore, was dead, and sixteen scouts were wounded.

Colonel Forsyth had two wounds, one a shattered leg bone. It was evident that the distressed party would have to stand a siege. They were a hundred miles from the nearest post, Fort Wallace, and no other help was to be looked for. The ammunition supply, thanks to the self control of the men, was ample for some days. Of bread there was a lack, but thanks from the slaughtered animals would keep off famine for days. The gallant leader said to his survivors, "We will win the fight yet or sell our lives dearly in the attempt."

Under his orders a spring was scooped out in the sand, a parapet was made all around the island, and the bodies of the dead horses and their saddles were placed so as to stop the bullets. Two scouts volunteered to try and steal through the Indian lines during the night and summon aid, and they left at midnight, crawling stealthily the first two miles.

The following day the Indians kept up a hot fire on the imprisoned scouts and made several attempts to draw them from cover. On the second night of the siege two more volunteers started out for relief to insure communication with Fort Wallace in case the first two had met with disaster and the second should be more fortunate. The third day the savages kept up their demonstrations, but made no effort to charge the camp. On Sept. 23 the Indians disappeared without offering further battle.

On the night of the 21st the scouts that had left the island the first night of the battle reached Fort Wallace. Prompt action was taken by the commandant of the post and a mounted force pushed through to the camp by the 25th in time to save the lives of the heroes.

J. I. Mahoney of Portage was in Janesville yesterday.

W. Van Alstine of Delavan was in the city yesterday.

Buy it in Janesville.

USE OF PEAT FOR FUEL.

Canadians Preparing to Use it as Substitute for Coal.

The first commercially practicable method of preparing peat for commercial purposes is described by Aubrey Fullerton in the Technical World magazine. In his article, entitled, "Hurry Up the Coal Mines," he tells of the efforts of men of the United States, and particularly of Canada, to break away from their dependence upon the limited sections that now control their coal supply. In the advent of a new coal strike in the anthracite fields, something must be found which will take the place of Pennsylvania or Nova Scotia coal, and while the mine operators are hurrying their collieries in order to lay up a supply of coal in advance of the coming winter demand, experiments are being made in Canada which promise to develop the first commercially practicable method of treating peat so as to put it on the market at a price which will make it a competitor of anthracite coal.

The rock upon which all former tests have foundered is in extracting the last 40 per cent. of water from the peat after it is taken from the bog. The new process, as described by Mr. Fullerton, solves this difficulty in a way which is so simple and inexpensive as to reduce the cost of the drying part of the operation to about one dollar a ton.

The northern states of the union and most of the provinces of the dominion have extensive peat-bog lands, and the placing of peat upon the market in large quantities promises to destroy the economic anomaly of two countries dependent upon one kind of fuel produced by only limited sections of country.

CUT OUT FOR A DIPLOMAT.

Quick Wit Extricated Young Man from Difficult Situation.

Most people take things lightly at the seashore, so that probably accounted for the fact that a certain young man found himself engaged to two charming girls at one and the same time while enjoying his vacation during the past summer.

One day he was seated, half-dozing, on the deserted piazza of the hotel where all three of the interested parties were stopping when suddenly two little hands were clasped tightly over his eyes, and a sweet voice whispered, "Guess who?"

"Was it Clara or Nan? Should he say one of the names and chance it? These thoughts were flashing through his brain, when an inspiration struck him.

"It's the dearest, sweetest, prettiest little girl in all the world," he said. "Oh, you dear old Jack boy!" she whispered, satisfied and delighted, and the hands dropped from his eyes to his shoulders.

Knows "Divine Right" Doctrine.

At an exciting Republican convention at Worcester, when Gen. Butler nearly captured the nomination for governor, Rev. Freeman Clark took the platform, and in a great speech against Butler enunciated a new and novel political doctrine, since known as the "divine" right to vote.

A year or two later, on a hot summer day, Mr. Clarke and his family were driving through Roxbury, when the horse balked at a sewer excavation in one of the streets. No amount of urging, including a vigorous application of the whip, could make the animal move. An ardent admirer of Gen. Butler, who was passing along, and recognizing Mr. Clarke, dryly remarked: "Parson, your horse must understand the 'divine right' doctrine."

Nothing Doing.

"Well, sir," said the great lawyer. The visitor spoke tremulously. "I am a defaulter," he said, "and I want you to defend me."

The other shook him by the hand. "Certainly, I will defend you, my friend," he murmured kindly. "And how many hundred thousand did you say?"

"Hundred thousand!" the client interrupted. "Oh, sir, don't think me worse than I am. It is only $490 in all, and I expect to pay back every cent before I die."

The lawyer rose brusquely. His eye flashed, scorn and contempt. "George," he said to the office boy, "show this dishonest rascal out."

Easy Way to Get Rid of Stumps.

A method of getting rid of stumps which has been highly recommended, and which is to be effective should be done now, is as follows:

Bore a hole one or two inches in diameter and about 18 inches deep into the center of the stump. Then put into this hole one or two ounces of saltpeter. Fill the hole with water and plug it up. In the spring take out the plug, pour in about one-half gallon of kerosene oil and light it. The stump will smolder away to the very extremities of the roots, leaving nothing but the ashes.—Farming.

Where We Lead Them.

"After all," said the British manufacturer, on a visit to America, "there's nothing you make here that we do not make in England."

"You're mistaken," replied the native; "there's one thing you don't seem able to make in England."

"What is that, pray?"

"Haste."

Off on the Pronunciation.

Ascum—I hear he actually made a speech in German to some of his constituents. And it was quite a success, too, I'm told.

Wise—Well, yes, but it wasn't exactly a pronounced success.

Folly's Crown of Follies.

"Folly's crown of follies is on the head of him who tries to pay his debt to humanity by mere money."—American Magazine.

MRS. H. C. DONNELLY

IS DEAD AT MEMPHIS

Wife of Former Landlord of Hotel Myers Succumbed to Acute Bright's Disease at Early Hour Today.

Mrs. Anna McNeill received this forenoon a telegram from Memphis, Tenn., bearing the sad tidings of the sudden death at three o'clock this morning of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry C. Donnelly. Acute Bright's disease was the cause of death and the victim had been ill but a very short time. She had been living in Memphis for a year past. Deceased was twenty-seven years of age and was a daughter of the late James McGillan, formerly of Appleton, who passed away in Chicago two weeks ago. One of her sisters, Mrs. James Madden of Ashland, and another, Miss Josephine McGillan of Chicago, are very ill and in hospitals at the present time. The funeral is to be held in Chicago Wednesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly came to Janesville to take charge of the Hotel Myers when it was first re-opened over two years ago. Mrs. Donnelly's sunny disposition and her talents as a musician and entertainer soon made for her many warm friends and the news of her untimely demise is received with great sorrow in Janesville.

FUNERAL OF LATE

JOSEPH CREIGHTON

Was Held at Whitewater Today—Deceased Was Formerly Engaged in Mercantile Business Here.

The funeral of the late Joseph Creighton of the mercantile firm of Creighton Bros. at Stanford, Ill., was held at Whitewater at one o'clock this afternoon. Deceased passed away at his home in Illinois at half past nine o'clock Friday evening. With his brother he was engaged in mercantile business in Janesville about thirty years ago and he is well remembered by the older residents. Mr. Creighton was about forty-eight years of age. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and five children.

Celadon, Bassett.

Late this afternoon the arrangements for the funeral of the late Celadon Bassett were arranged. The services will be held Wednesday afternoon from the residence of Frank B. Echlin, 37 Milwaukee avenue, and the interment will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

LINK AND PIN.

Northwestern Road.

Conductor George Wittwer of this city is seriously ill at the Garfield Park sanitarium, Chicago, and his wife has been called to his bedside.

The "Little Johnny Jones" theatrical company was taken to Waubesa via Harvard and Kosmosha on a special train of three baggage cars and two passenger coaches yesterday. The train was in charge of Conductor Will Sage and was hauled by locomotive number 813, manned by Engineer D. R. Dunwiddie and Fireman Birkness.

Switchman John Erdman is helping D. J. Barry today.

Engineer C. B. Smith dispatched engines for a few hours last night.

Fireman Etzel is relieving Fireman T. Heagney on runs 34 and 35, the latter having gone to Fond du Lac to confer the divisions superintendent regarding an order to go to Dakota.

St. Paul Road.

Carsmiths A. Abendroth and William Lagerman were called to Avalon today.

Switchman Henry Young is in charge of best sugar switch engine and Switchman Nolan is in charge of the yards, J. J. Kelley being in charge of the yard.

100 LATE TO CLASSIFY.

Albaster clear skin, soft, supple, white hands secured by using Satin skin cream and complexion powder. 25c.

FOR SALE—Gas range. Inquire at office of New City Mfg. Co.

INDEPENDENT Order of United Workmen.

Modern, safe, square dealing fraternal insurance. Accepts both sexes from 18 to 65 years of age. Write for circular, 230 Grand Ave., Room 7, Milwaukee, Wis.

WANTED—A young lady of 20 or 21 for operator at Wisconsin Telephone Company's exchange.

FOR SALE—"Favorite" coal heater. Inquire at Badger Drug Co.

WANTED—Competent girl for housework.

Mrs. H. E. Bliss, corner Jackson and Second streets.

WANTED by quiet, young married couple—Two or three neat, comfortable furnished rooms in modern house in good location, East side river, with or without board. Address William E. Linton, Box 184, City.

GLOVES AND MITTENS.

This weather demands warm covering for the hands to be comfortable. We can show a fine stock at warm prices.

Men's big fur mitts, horsehide fronts, at $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2.25 a pair.

Men's horsehide mitts, lamb lined, at $1.25 and $1.50 a pair.

Men's heavy lined mitts, calf skin or horsehide, at 50c, 65c, and $1 a pair.

Men's lined leather gloves, at 25c, 50c, 75c and $1 a pair.

Men's calf bucking gloves at 75c a pair.

Men's dress gloves or mittens, lined or unlined, at 50c, 75c, $1 and $1.50 a pair.

Boys' lined leather mitts at 25c, 40c and 50c.

Wool yarn mittens or gloves for men, women or children.

MRS. E. HALL,

55 W. Milwaukee Street.

Health—Economy

Calumet Baking Powder

No Alum, no Rochelle Salt, in Food made with Calumet.

IF YOU DISCRIMINATE.

IF YOU ARE SUPER-CAREFUL.

THE HOWARD WATCH

In the selection of your personal effects, whether apparel or jewelry, you will appreciate the ULTRA EXCLUSIVENESS OF

Let us present the newest models for your inspection.

Elgin, Waltham, Hamilton

and the newest designs. Let us tell you our prices are less.

WILLIAMS' Jeweler and Optician, Grand Hotel Block.

Shur-On Eye glasses

WILLIAMS' Prescriptions are Right

Mountings and Frames made to fit. Examination Free.

WILLIAMS Optician

Shur-On Eye glasses

Unique New

ONE GOOD

"An Honor to Any Man"

Does Dr. Richards' work please his patients?

Well, here's what a new patient of his recently said:

"Dr. Richards, I came to you because 3 or 4 families among my friends recommended your work to me."

"Who were they?"

"Well, they were people in this community whose recommendation I would consider an honor to any man."

So it goes.

Dr. Richards tries to please.

You will not find him doing business on the basis of never caring whether he ever sees you again or not.

He wants your satisfied esteem.

He wants to have a smile and not a scowl from you when he meets you on the street.

Good work at moderate prices makes friends.

That's what you will get, if you choose him for your next dentist.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Cleaners & Dyers

Ladies Waists, fine Dresses and Spring Jackets Chemically Dry Cleaned.

Janesville Steam Dye House

Carl F. Brockhaus, Prop.

19 East Milwaukee St.

"The IDEAL" BARBER SHOP

Nothing will relieve those dull, heavy headaches so quickly as an electric head massage. Try one.

W. J. BRENNAN, Prop.

WEST SIDE THEATRE

ROLLER SKATING

Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday Nights and Every Afternoon.

JUST RECEIVED.

A fresh line of Pecans, Brazils, English Walnuts, Almonds, Chestnuts, and a very fine assortment of Mixed Nuts. Extra fine Imported Malaga Grapes. Try our delicious home made Bitter Sweets—they cannot be excelled in quality and purity. Agency for original Allegretti famous Chocolates and Gunther's Chocolates and Bon Bons.

Palace of Sweets

HARRIS BROS., Proprietors

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

JANESVILLE, WIS.

At the close of business Nov. 12, 1906.

RESOURCES.

Loans	$572,520.39
Overdrafts	205.59
United States Bonds	50,000.00
Other Bonds	109,657.25
Banking House	10,000.00
Due from banks	$188,732.96
Cash	67,836.32
Due from U. S. Treasurer	3,500.00
Total	$1,002,452.51

LIABILITIES.

Capital	$125,000.00
Surplus	85,000.00
Undivided Profits	25,204.96
Circulation Outstanding	49,350.00
Deposits	717,897.55
Total	$1,002,452.51

The First National Bank solicits business on the strength of its record and standing.

JOHN G. REXFORD, Pres.

L. B. CARLE, Vice Pres.

W. O. NEWHOUSE, Cashier.

TO A PERSON WHO APPRECIATES PURITY AND CLEANLINESS

there's a satisfaction in using

Pasteurized

...Milk...

THAT COMES FROM NO OTHER KIND. THE REASON FOR THIS IS THAT YOU KNOW IT IS ABSOLUTELY PURE. WE WILL BE GLAD TO SUPPLY YOU.

JANESVILLE PURE MILK CO.

Gridley & Craft, Props.

In Memory of Iowa Soldiers

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 19—Memorials erected by the state of Iowa in honor of the soldiers of that state who took part in the civil war battles at Lookout Mountain and Sherman Heights were formally dedicated on the battlefields today by the officials of the Iowa Chickamauga Park commission, assisted by Gov. Cummins and other eminent representatives of the state. The ceremonies were of a simple but impressive character. More elaborate exercises are to be held tomorrow accompanying the dedication of the Iowa monument at Rossville Gap.

NOVEMBER TERM OF THE CIRCUIT COURT

Calendar Was Called This Morning and Several Divorce Cases Were Disposed of

The November term of the circuit court opened today with the calling of the calendar. The following were excused from service on the jury: F. H. Baack of this city, M. B. Eldridge of Clinton village, L. M. Jacobson of Clinton, Charles Oliver and W. H. Thornton of Beloit. Secretary J. C. Kline of the Y. M. C. A. was excused until next Monday morning and the balance of the jurors until tomorrow morning at 9:30. The day calendar was made up for tomorrow. The first case to be tried is that of John Skelly vs. Albert Behling and the others come in their order as follows: Hal A. Reitenberg vs. Allie Razook et al.; Shurtliff Co. vs. Ivan J. Fletcher; David W. Watt vs. Andrew C. Pond; Edward H. Ryan vs. Frank J. Malone; and John Pickett vs. Joseph Hume. By consent of both parties a jury was waived in the action of R. F. Hanrahan et al. vs. the City of Janesville and the case goes over to the court calendar. It was stipulated that the case of County of Rock vs. the City of Janesville should stand over until Judge Stevens can come here to try the same. An affidavit of prejudice and petition for a change of venue having been filed in the case of H. A. Moehlenpach, administrator, Franky Christman et al. vs. William A. Hayhew, the case was held over until Judge Grimm shall have taken the bench. The action of A. Lerner vs. Jake Miller was settled. The case of J. N. Chamberlain, administrator, vs. Ellen Pennock Murray was added to the court calendar. Testimony was taken this morning in the divorce action of Josephine Savin vs. Albert Savin. Atty. Clancy and Loverud of Stoughton appearing for the plaintiff and the defendant making no appearance. The court directed that the complaint should be served anew with amendment in the divorce action of Bertha Jackson vs. George Jackson. Charles W. Dunn was granted a decree of divorce from Maude Dunn, Atty. L. E. Gettle appearing for the plaintiff. A judgment was also signed in the divorce action of Kittie B. Snashall vs. Arthur A. Snashall. The criminal action of the State vs. N. C. Hansen on the charge of selling adulterated milk will be taken up later on account of the absence of the defense's most important witness. The two actions of the City of Beloit vs. J. P. McKearn and C. M. Garvin for violation of liquor ordinances were put on the criminal calendar with the understanding that they should not be tried this term.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF TWILIGHT PROGRAM

Various Phases of Saloon Problem Will Be Discussed Tomorrow Evening.

Announcements for tomorrow evening's meeting of the Twilight club have been issued and the following is the program: "The Economic and Social Aspect of the Liquor Traffic," Rev. W. A. Goebel, leader.

- 1.—In its Relation to Crime.
- 2.—In its Relation to Poverty and Pauperism.
- 3.—Methods of Control.
- 4.—Social Aspects of Saloons in Janesville.
- 5.—The Saloon in Beloit, Wis.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Congressman Cooper: Henry Allen Cooper of Racine, congressman from the first Wisconsin district, was in the city for half an hour this morning, being en route from Kenosha to Mineral Point.

Brought Home Two Deer: Frank B. Granger has returned from Rice Lake, Wis., with two fine specimens of deer. He reports that the game is as plentiful as ever, but more difficult to pot than in former years.

Moves to Janesville: Wm. Fulton of Sioux Falls, S. D., is in the city and is making preparation to make Janesville his headquarters. Mr. Fulton has charge of the states of Illinois and Wisconsin for the Central Dakota Flour mills located at Arlington, S. D. He expects to take up his residence here within a short time.

Seat Sale Large: The sale of seats for De Wolf Hopper's engagement in "Happyland" is very large. It opened at nine this morning.

Meet Tuesday: The Athena History Class will hold a special meeting in the Caledonian Rooms tomorrow, November 20th.

Has Taken Pledge: Frank Martin, hostler at the Park hotel, took the pledge for five years today. He visited the Gaette office and said: "During 31 years I have invested enough money in liquor to buy a house and lot. I am going to quit now."

Marriage License: Application for a marriage license has been filed by Herbert Roberts and Mayme Smith, both of Beloit.

Case Adjourned: In Municipal court this morning the trial of the criminal action of the State vs. Horatio Bliss was adjourned until next Monday.

Drunks Fined: Judge Fifield this morning imposed a fine and costs amounting to $4.20 on August Kirchoff, for drunkenness, and $3.20 on Enoch Swan, for the same cause.

Chances for Flirtations.

"Four good-looking sons in the family." This is the last sentence of an advertisement for a girl, for a dairy farm, which appears in a New Zealand newspaper.

Slow.

Just to prove how slow the world is to learn, it is only necessary to cite the fact that rich men continue to die thinking they can shut out both their heirs and the lawyers from participation in their fortunes.

The W. R. C. will meet at the G. A. R. hall Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Speed of Carrier Pigeons.

Carrier pigeons, in calm weather, can travel at a speed of 1,200 yards a minute. With a brisk wind prevailing and blowing in the direction of its flight, a pigeon has been known to make 1,900 yards a minute.

Burn Taylor's clean coal.

"JOHNNY JONES" AT THE MYERS THEATRE

Two Good-Sized Audiences Were Pleased with Performances Saturday—Moving Pictures Yesterday.

Everyone who heard the lines and lyrics of "Little Johnny Jones" more or less maltreated by a company of incompetent players on Oct. 25, 1905, and who gave the Cohan music drama another trial on Saturday last, was delighted with the transformation that could be wrought by capable actors and singers. Characters such as the Irish horse-owner "Timothy McGee," the "Earl of Bloomsbury," and "Sing Song," the Pelin editor, who were insufferable horses in the first production, became interesting individuals in the second. "The Unknown" happened to be well interpreted in both instances, though Tom Lewis, the original in the part, probably has a shade the better of it in comparison with William Keough. As the dispenser of pungent epigram in slang and the "mean disposition" code of ethics; as the walking ready answer; and as the imperturbable and undismayed pursuer of a purpose, he stood out in the picture, a being of real flesh and blood and a character with whom it were the idliest folly for crowned heads or common folk to trifles. Never smile relaxed the resolute lines of his ample visage, though what he said and did was irresistibly amusing. Nor did he leave his role to indulge in a clog dance or join in the singing, and so the dignity and gravity of his bearing were maintained throughout. Because the author adopted the simple expedient of injecting some virtue, living types drawn from the everyday world; into the manifestly unreal and impossible comic opera world, he has been hailed as the discoverer of something new in musical comedy.

Cohan thinks so much of the dramatic element in his musical plays that he will not have the action staying by undue prolongation of the musical and dance features. He assumes too much, and the arbitrary ruling under which Stella Tracy and some of the others found themselves obliged to ignore encores, displeased the two audiences Saturday. If the spectacle is in no particular tension about the outcome of the plot, why should the author do?

Miss Tracy's work, particularly in the role of the Parisian dancer, was immense. Possessed of remarkable imitative powers, she sang and danced with startling abandon and fidelity to the French. She was also excellent in her character rendition of the "Good Bye, Flo" song. Sam Ryan as "Timothy McGee" was a refreshing contribution and Adie Ratner was very pleasing as "Flora Belle Fly."

Jack Raffael was good as "Anthony Amesty" and Bobby Barry was equal to every emergency save that of singing the solemn moment "Life's a Funny Proposition After All" song, to which his droning voice seems hardly suited. The balance of the support was good.

The wharf scene, with the sailing of the ship, is realistic and pleasing. A well drilled and well-costumed chorus goes through intricate evolutions in a faultless manner and some of the features such as the lantern fete in Chinatown are very beautiful.

The "Op in the Anson" specialty is a striking novelty and the familiar lyrics "Good Old California" and "Give My Regards to Broadway" have not lost their appeal. The attendance at both the afternoon and evening performances was good. From Janesville the company went to Waukegan and in a few days will journey to Boston for a three weeks' engagement. Barry will be starred next season in "George Washington, Jr."

Moving Pictures Yesterday.

Bobbie Barry was again in evidence at the Myers theatre yesterday, this time in the moving picture skit of the Office Boy and the White Sox-Cubs championship baseball game. The Kinodrome pictures were remarkably clear and the subjects chosen were interesting and novel. "The New Chaufer" film was one of the most entertaining. Good sized audiences attended both the afternoon and evening exhibitions and were well pleased. Next week a series of films taken at the World's championship games will be put on.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Bath rooms are warm. Wisch's up-to-date barber shop, Hayes block.

The Methodist ladies will hold a doll sale at Harris' candy store Saturday, Nov. 24th, all day. Dressed dolls and dolls' clothing.

The ladies of the St. John's Lutheran church will give a supper and fair Wednesday, Nov. 21st, afternoon and evening, at the Caledonian rooms. Everybody welcome.

Buy six skeins of the best embroidery silk at 4c and get a handsome pillow top and back, with diagram lesson, by expert Japanese embroiderer, for one cent. Holmes' store.

Anyone who wishes to make a pretty Christmas gift will be interested in the display of water color paintings, from $1 to $10, to be seen at C. S. Putnam's.

The Methodist ladies will continue their rummage sale all of this week at the Farmers' Rest on North Franklin street.

The ladies of the Cargill Methodist church will hold their general meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the church parlors. A large attendance is desired to make final arrangements for their Christmas sale.

WEATHER.

Temperature last 24 hours taken U. S. registered thermometer at Heimstreet's drugstore: 7 a. m., 29; 3 p. m., 32; highest, 38; lowest, 29; wind, northwest; cloudy.

HAVE JUST RECEIVED FRESH SUPPLY OF

Peters Bon Bons

The most delicious confection known.

PRICE 30c PER BOX.

McCUE & BUSS

The Druggists. Two Stores.

HEAD-ON COLLISION IN BELOIT YARDS

Freight Train Went Through Switch and Demolished Switch-Engine Saturday Night.

In the Beloit gravel pit Saturday night a freight train and a switch-engine figured in a head-on collision and the latter was completely demolished and the locomotive on the switch-engine had gone down into the pit and the switch from the main line was left open. A freight went through and smashed into the engine. The men on both locomotives saved themselves by jumping. The wrecker from Baraboo cleared up the wreck yesterday.

CELEBRATED SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Rissman and Friends Had Enjoyable Time Saturday Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Rissman celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding at their home, 11 Prairie avenue, Saturday evening. A number of invited guests participated in the festivities and several hours were devoted to music and cards. The Misses Rohl and Cora Richter gave several piano numbers. Tempting refreshments were served and the host and hostess were presented with a number of handsome silver gifts. Among the guests from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Schleiter of Avon, Mrs. Herman Hilker of Clinton, and Mrs. Emma Siegel of Milwaukee.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Atty. J. M. Clancey of Stoughton is in the city today.

Dr. H. B. Anderson of Orfordville spent Saturday evening in Janesville.

Atty. W. N. Adams and wife of Beloit are in the city today.

Manager Robert Wilson of the Beloit opera-house and family were here to witness the theatre performance Saturday evening.

Fred W. Coon of Edgerton, publisher of the Tobacco Reporter, and wife were in the city Saturday.

Mrs. Harry Garbutt departed Saturday evening for Kansas City, where she will visit with her sister, Mrs. Frank Frost, who has been ill for some time.

Atty. J. C. Rood of Beloit is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Butterfield, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Bernard M. Palmer, departed for their home in Moscow, Idaho, Saturday evening. Mrs. Palmer leaves next Sunday for Moscow and will spend the holidays with her parents.

George McKee witnessed the Wisconsin-Purdue football game in Madison Saturday.

F. B. Gridley transacted business in Milton today.

Miss Myrtle Maltress returned to her home in Edgerton this morning after being the guest of Miss Verma Bennison for the past few days.

William Turst of Minneapolis is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Jennie Belmont, at 51 North Jackson street.

Attorney G. G. Sutherland was in Milton on business today.

Miss Marguerite Samuels attended a Gamma Phi sorority party in Madison Saturday night.

Mrs. George Wittwer is in Chicago, called there by the critical illness of her husband.

J. Bailey was a spectator at the Wisconsin-Purdue football game in Madison Saturday.

Miss Mabel Lee was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank Pearson, in Fulton yesterday.

Alexander Chaille returned Saturday evening from Syracuse, N. Y., whither he was called by the death of his father on November 5.

Mrs. H. Colman of Milwaukee is visiting her daughter, Miss Laura Colman, for a few days.

Wm. Koke, formerly of Janesville, and party of five are in northern Wisconsin on a deer hunt. Mr. Koke was first to kill a deer, a four-year-old one.

Mrs. Frank De Lambert of Beloit, formerly Leola Slocum, was in the city for a short time before leaving for New York city, where she will join her husband and be the guest of his sister, Mrs. Jensen, for an indefinite time.

A. S. and John S. Flagg of Edgerton are in the city.

F. G. Borden of Milton is transacting business here.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF

Merchants' & Mechanics' Savings Bank of Janesville, Wisconsin, at close of business, November 12th, 1906.

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts	$864,059.33
Overdrafts	943.20
Bonds	450,582.50
Banking houses, furniture and fixtures	5,000.00
Due from banks	318,064.38
Checks on other banks	33,237.29
Cash on hand	43,072.22
Total	$1,720,452.34

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$50,000.00
Surplus fund	100,000.00
Undivided profits	43,932.41
Due to banks—deposits	$10,943.23
Individual deposits subject to check	1,465,458.34
Demand certificates of deposit	49,918.86
Certified checks	200.00
Total	$1,720,452.34

In calling attention to the above statement we solicit your business and guarantee courteous treatment and every facility consistent with conservative banking.

3 PER CENT PAID IN SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.

OFFICERS:

W. M. JEFFRIES, President.

W. M. BLADON, Vice Pres.

S. M. SMITH, Cashier.

YOUNG ENGINEERS SENT TO DAKOTAS

North-Western Road Needs More Men Where Grain and Cattle Traffic Is Heavy.

Ten young extra engineers from the Northern Wisconsin division have received orders to go to the Dakotas for service. Most of these men have been taking extra runs or serving as firemen. But engineers are needed in the west and where the immense grain crop of the past summer is now being moved and where the winter's cattle traffic has commenced with a rush. Among those ordered to Dakota is C. B. Smith of this city and it is likely that others from Janesville will get similar commands.

Burn Taylor's clean coal.

EAGO FLOUR

Everybody praises this Flour—the most exacting praise it highest.

It has met every claim made for it.

It has proven all that was expected.

We expected the finest flour ever made—one that would be immediately recognized as a glass by itself—one that would establish itself on its own merits.

Market Price $1.35

DEDRICK BROS.

YOUR EYES ARE VALUABLE

If they trouble you, consult

S. R. KNOX

With

O. H. PYPER

"THE JEWELER"

The New Store

58 W. Milwaukee St.

NASH

Home Rendered Lard 12 1/2 lb.

Bologna, Wieners, Head Cheese.

Home Made Pork Sausage

Jersey Butterine 15c lb.

Home Grown Doughnuts, Cookies and Bread.

Corner Stone, the best Patent Flour on earth, $1.15.

The Flour of the Golden Glow $1.00 Sack.

Dill Pickles.

New 1906 Honey.

Parsnips and Vegetable Oysters.

Fancy Yellow Onions 75c bushel.

Malaga and Tokay Grapes.

Lu Lu & Old Dutch Cleaner.

Norwegian Stock Fish.

Snowball Popping Corn 10c, 3 for 25c.

Bon Ami, Salome & Sapolio.

Boccabelli Castile Soap 20c lb.

Eating Apples 25c pk.

8 Santa Claus or Lenox 25c

6 Old Country Soap, 25c.

Audobon Bird Seed, the finest.

Janesville Corn 6c Can.

Campbell's Soups.

Puffed Rice.

20 Mule Team Borax or Boraxo.

3 Lewis Lime 25c.

Chloride of Lime $1.10.

Groceries and Meat.

NASH

THIS BANK

THOMAS W. LAWSON, NOVELIST

Character Study of Boston's Croesus, Who Is to Turn From Frenzied Finance to Frenzied Fiction

Famous Copper King, Who Has Always Had a Taste For the Spectacular, Is Neither Haughty Nor Supercilious, but Good Natured—Great Lover of Luxury, and Trigger-Quick at Repartee. How He Made a Farm to Order

By ROBERTUS LOVE.
BOSTON is in the premonitory throes of an earthquake. The famous frogs in the pond of Boston Common croak apprehensively. The surface of State street already shows corrugations. The Back Bay district has its back up. And all this because ex-Mayor Lawson of Grand Rivers, Ky., is going to become a novelist and short story writer.

The full name of this ex-mayor of Grand Rivers is Thomas William Lawson. He likes best to be called "Lawson of Boston." Mr. Lawson solemnly announces that he will turn from frenzied finance to frenzied fiction. There are some State street financiers and some Back Bay fashionables who do not admire him. These persons fear that he may write them and their doings into his stories. This fear occasions the quaking.

Mr. Lawson himself makes no threat as to writing up fashionable foibles, but he outlines his first three short stories in this manner, which shows that he will handle fiction as a cogel with which to castigate the "system" still further:

No. 1—"A disclosure that I promise you will make a real sensation in the New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, blow out seven-eighths of all their windows and make it impossible for the 'system' and the stock gamblers where investigations were made is a difficult matter to determine. The main point is that he was the first man to handle the muck rake from the inside of the muck and thus far the only insider to do it willingly and cheerfully. Mr. Lawson claims that he has exposed stock gambling methods for the public good. Some of the individuals whose methods he has shown up ever that he has done it for spite. H. H. Rogers, for instance, said that Lawson was so constituted that he would spend a million dollars to get revenge on him. No doubt every man is entitled to his own view of Lawson's motives.

Some Things He Has Done.

Since Lawson's lively pen began to make a stir in magazine pages several important things have happened. There is the new deal in life insurance management, for one thing, and the recent conviction of Standard Oil in Ohio for another. The flaying of Rogers by Attorney General Hadley of Missouri is to be counted in the score, and just here we may insert No. 3 of Lawson's list of nine pointers to Mr. Hadley, at the time of that inquiry as showing the Lawsonian literary style:

"Hon. H. Rogers is brave as a lion up to the point where he gets a scare on that his tricks won't work. When you once cross the line with him as Hughes did with McCall he'll go down to a very rocky piece of land at Seltun, near Boston." Mrs. Lawson, though it would make a fine farm, Lawson bought the tract.

"Tom," said one of his friends, "if you want a farm, why didn't you buy land that you can cultivate? Why, the rocks are so close together on that place that you can't use it for a sheep pasture unless you sharpen the sheep's noses so they can get down to the grass."

Made a Farm to Order.

But Lawson set a force of men to work, blasted out the rocks, hauled soil and spread it on the bare spots, transformed the tract into a beautiful and fertile farm and showed that a man with plenty of money could make a farm to order. At last reports he had spent about $50,000 on the place. He calls it Dreamland. His tenants occupy pretty cottages bordering a street, as in a village, and his farmhouse is a mansion. There is a huge chicken house, in which every hen has a separate apartment, steam heated, and each rooster occupies his own flat.

Lawson loves luxury. His steam yacht, named Dreamer, cost $250,000. It is a floating art gallery. Six years ago Lawson built another yacht, the Independence, which he desired to enter in the contest for the America's cup. The New York Yacht club, which had the matter in hand, made a ruling that only members of the club were entitled to compete in the trial races to choose a yacht to go against the challenger. Lawson's yacht had cost him $200,000. He had it destroyed, made a bronze cup for his friends out of the copper sheathing plates and then set to work and wrote a big book, "The Lawson History of the America's Cup," appropriately bound in sail canvas and highly embellished. Each copy cost him $300. He had fifty copies made, gave them away and destroyed the plates. It is said that that is the costliest book per copy ever printed in America.

Lawson has business offices on State street, which he seldom enters. The atmosphere is too staid. He prefers to sit in his private office in Young's hotel, where he gave the dinner thirty years ago. This is a private art gallery and treasure collection. On his desk table are three magnificent equestrian statues—Julius Caesar, Frederick the Great and Napoleon.

"Those men," he once said to a caller, "if they were living today would be in jail street."

Works in a Luxurious Den.

From this luxurious den Lawson transacts his business. Wires connect with his business office, and a gold plated ticker machine feeds out the tape reports from Wall street and the Boston Stock Exchange. Why should he mix with the mob when he can make millions by telephone?

Only once has Lawson deserted Boston. That was when, sixteen years ago, he went down to Kentucky and founded a boom town called Grand Rivers. There was iron ore in the vicinity, and Lawson organized companies and built big mills. Grand Rivers grew to be a thriving burg of 1,500 people. Lawson got out and worked for the development of the city with mind and muscle. The people made him mayor. Then his associates grew jealously and the boom broke wide open.

Mayor Lawson returned to Boston almost as poor as he was the night after the boom broke. "But it was still easy for him to make money, and he soon became a millionaire again." Since that little excursion into the woods he has stuck closely to his Boston offices, right across the street from the bank where he shoveled gold pieces into the bucket at the beginning of his remarkable familiarity with hard cash. "It was there that he began his dealings with Butte copper, engineered the famous Amalgamated and became known as 'the copper king' long before he made his first bold dash into literature.

Lawson is trigger quick at repartee. Once he was at sea aboard his yacht. Another boat passed within hailing distance, on the deck of which was a vivacious girl from Chicago. The girl was told that the man on the deck of the Dreamer was the copper king.

"Hello there, Copper!" she cried.

"Hello there, Brass!" returned Lawson.

Sample of His Good Nature.

There is nothing haughty or supercilious about Lawson. He is good natured. Once while in New York he entered a cafe and ordered for breakfast that delectable fish called sheep's head. There was none on hand, and the proprietor sent Jerry, a green hand from inland regions, to the market for a sheep's head. After quite an interval Jerry returned with the head of a sheep artistically skinned, and its mouth open as if to say "Baa." Lawson gave Jerry a generous tip and ordered something else.

With all his worldly wisdom Lawson is superstitious. He carries a lucky fifty cent piece. Sometimes he tosses a gold coin, and determines by the heads or tails method whether he will buy or sell. The figure 2 and its numerals, he thinks, have a lucky significance for him. His office is at No. 33, and his two telephone numbers are 3,337 and 3,349. He wears around his neck a watch chain of 333 gold links, passing out through a buttonhole of his waistcoat. His waistcoats by the way are gorgeous works of art. They run to fancy figures, both in price and pattern.

Lawson likes opposition and thrives on it. Of his enemies Lawson says: "They are all thoroughbreds. Every one of them would rise from a sound sleep to do me an injury. Long may they live. They put spice into life."

Of many maxims made by Lawson this is his own favorite: "Only one person in this world can help a man, and that person is himself."

Unconsciously writing a creed for the strenuous advertiser of these days Shakespeare said, "Be stirring as the time: be fire with fire!"

Buy it in Jamesville.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES.

King Frederick and Queen Louise of Denmark have gone to Berlin.

Dr. Quirno Costa, Argentine minister of the interior, has resigned.

President Richard D. Harlan, of Lake Forest university, has resigned. Commissioner of Patents Allen is expected to resign his office in a few days.

A Japanese fleet of warships of the first class is to visit the United States next year.

Celandon Bassett, of Jamesville, Wis., head of the largest harness concern in the northwest, fell dead of heart disease.

The Cafe Martin of New York has sent an offer by cable to Count Castellane of the job of head waiter at $10,000 a year.

Commissioner Taft has left Washington for New Haven, Conn., to attend a meeting of the Yale corporation, of which he is a member.

Richard Croker, in a Dublin interview, says he regards the defeat of Hearst as an act of Providence, and calls Croker a "dishonest blackguard."

District Attorney Jerome, in a report to the governor of New York, said no more Mutual Life officials could be indicted, and blamed state superintendent for crimes.

Rebate suits filed against the Standard Oil company threaten to wipe out the trust's entire capital stock; maximum fines, if assessed, will reach the staggering total of $18,960,000.

The government is preparing to attack next the gunpowder trust by suit in the courts and by asking congress for appropriations for plants to manufacture the supplies needed by Uncle Sam.

Gigantic Union Pacific land frauds in Wyoming are laid to connivance of officials of the interior department at Washington in direct charges made by Artemus J. Smith, a Colorado mine dealer, who says patents worth millions were issued in spite of protests and offers of proof of fraud made by him years ago.

TO SETTLE MINERS' SHARE.

Indian Commission Will Discuss Improvements Made By Squatters.

South McAlester, I. T., Nov. 19.—The chief question to be taken up here by the senate Indian commission will be the share of mine owners in the improvements made by squatters on the segregated lands, and particularly on coal leases signed by the operators. The operators believe that 25 per cent of the improvements would be fair, but Judge J. Henry Sheppard, who represents 30 citizens on the segregated lands, will contest this and try to secure for the citizens their improvements entire as they stand. On this matter the commission will have only the power of execution. Judge Sheppard will accompany the commission to Washington, and will work on a new bill for the proper disposal of the surface lands. The disposition of the mineral treasures of the lands in manganese, iron and coal is a subject that lies wholly within the power of congress, and the senatorial commission will try to ascertain the wishes of the people on the question.

WABASH TRAIN WRECKED.

Engine Strikes Locked Switch and Turns Over.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—A passenger train of the Wabash railroad, bound for Chicago from St. Louis, struck an open switch at Chicago Heights and was wrecked. The fireman and engineer narrowly escaped death.

The engine left the tracks and was overturned. The passengers were shaken up, but none was injured, as the three coaches were little damaged. Jacob Crawshaw, fireman, and Jas. Mann, engineer, jumped from their cab when they discovered the switch was locked open. Both were bruised, but continued at work.

The train was moving slowly when the accident occurred.

Doan's Regulators cure constipation, tone the stomach, stimulate the liver, promote digestion and appetite and easy passages of the bowels. Ask your druggist for them. 25 cents a box.

There's nothing so good for a sore throat as Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Cures it in a few hours. Relieves any pain in any part.

Manufacture of Tantalum. The manufacture of tantalum, one of the hardest metals known, into sheets and bars is now, it is said, being practiced in Germany by the squiring process, the material in its original powdered form being mixed with water and gum tragacanth, and then successfully forced into rods and shapes as desired.

Searching the Sun. The sun telescope recently completed for the Smithsonian institution is known as the coldest, and is made upon a new plan. It is the largest and most perfect instrument of its kind ever constructed, and will be used chiefly for the study of solar spectrum work and other phenomena.

Buy it in Jamesville.

HEARST WANTS NO OFFICE NOW

Editor Asserts He Will Never Again Be a Candidate.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 19.—William R. Hearst, recently Democratic candidate for governor of New York, was here Saturday for a few minutes on his way to Monterey, where he has mining interests. He was accompanied by the members of his family. In discussing what his future course will be in reference to politics in New York, he said:

"I will never again be a candidate. I shall continue to reside in New York and advocate and support the principles of reform which I have always stood for, but these principles are now sufficiently understood by the general public for it to be no longer necessary for me to be a candidate."

"You probably know it is by no means pleasant to be a candidate. I am glad in the future it is to be my privilege to stand for the principles of government I have always advocated without being a candidate for office and on that account attacked with much bitterness."

MRS. HENDERSON IS ELECTED.

Chosen President of United Daughters of Confederacy.

Gulfport, Miss., Nov. 19.—The United Daughters of the Confederacy have elected the following officers:

President, Mrs. Lizzie Henderson, of Mississippi; first vice president, Mrs. Alfred H. Voorhees, of California; second vice president, Mrs. D. A. S. Vaught, Louisiana; recording secretary, Mrs. A. L. Boldwell, Alabama; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. E. Ripley, Missouri; treasurer, Mrs. L. E. Williams, Kentucky; custodian of cross of honor, Mrs. L. H. Raines, Georgia.

Norfolk, Va., was chosen as the meeting place for the next convention, to be held December 2, 1908.

The Work of Thieves.

Walker, Mo., Nov. 19.—Robbers have started a fire that destroyed six of the best business buildings in Walker to cover up the robbery of the Bank of Walker. On Monday last robbers wrecked the safe of the bank with dynamite, getting away with close to $2,000, and the bank officials were forced to place in the safe of a neighboring store what money was left by the robbers on that raid. Saturday the robbers, believed to be the same gang that committed the first robbery, cleaned out the safe, set fire to the building, and escaped.

Blizzard in the West.

Trinidad, Col., Nov. 19.—The worst blizzard experienced here in a decade aged here. The Colorado & Southern railroad reported the storm extending into the Panhandle of Texas. The Santa Fe reported a blizzard along its line clear to Kingsley, Kan. In northern New Mexico the blizzard was the worst. There was heavy loss in sheep and cattle. In New Mexico, territory and this section of Colorado.

Serious Fire in Goldfield.

Goldfield, Nev., Nov. 19.—A fierce fire, swept by a strong wind, completely destroyed the Hotel Goldfield, the leading hotel of the town, possibly cost the lives of three guests, and threatened the destruction of the entire residence part of the town.

Miner Kills a Storekeeper.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 19.—Silas Conaway, a miner, of Flushing, O., near here, shot and instantly killed Marcus Pivertotti, an Italian storekeeper, with whom he quarreled, Sunday. Conaway made his escape.

THE JAMESVILLE MARKETS.

Quotations on Grain and Produce for The Gazette.

Nov. 16, 1906.
FLOUR—1st Patent, at $1.10 to $1.20.
WHEAT—Chicago Cash, No. 1 and 2 Northern 72 to 74c.
RYE—Cash—$7.50 to $8.00 per bu.
BARLEY—4 to 4 1/2c.
OATS—35 to 37c.
TIMOTHY—Seed—Retail at $1.75 to $2.00 a bu. Buy at $1.45 to $1.55 bu.
FEED—Pure corn and oats, $8 to $10.50 on.
BRAN—$2 to $2 1/2 sacked per ton.
STANDARD MIDDINGS—$30.00 to $32.00 sacked.
OIL MEAL—$1.75 to $1.85 per cwt.
CORN MEAL—$1.00 to $1.10 per cwt.
HAY—Per ton baled, $11.00 to $12.00.
STRAW—Per ton baled, $5.50 to $6.
BUTTER—Dairy, 35c.
CHEESE—25c.
POTATOES—3 to 5c.
EGGS—strictly fresh 21c.

Willing to Take Chances.

We never yet saw the girl who could hug us until we holed her. There may have been germs crawling on that last kiss we received, but we'll bet that the principal ingredient was sugar. Our dad is 73 years old and is still in the harness.—Jefferson (Ore.) Review.

Proof

"A young woman of my parish was dying with consumption. Rather than give up, she was cured. (Signed) Rev. Father Pontus, Lafayetteville, N. Y."

"I was cured of lung trouble and cough by Father John's Medicine." (Signed) E. S. Daly, 888 Wood Ave. Reading, Pa.

Buy it in Jamesville.

RHEUMATISM WORSE FROM YEAR TO YEAR

The cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood, brought on by indigestion, chronic constipation, weak kidneys and a general sluggish condition of the entire system. The refuse and waste matter of the body is not carried out as nature intends, but is left to ferment and sour and generate uric acid, which is absorbed into the blood. The first evidence of Rheumatism is usually little wandering pains in the muscles and joints, or a tender, sensitive place on the flesh. These are often so slight that nothing is thought of them and they pass away; but with each recurrence the trouble becomes more severe, and from slight wandering pains and excited nerves, Rheumatism grows to be a painful and almost constant trouble. The longer the poison remains in the blood, the firmer hold the trouble gets on the system. Each day the acid deposit is increasing and the disease grows worse from year to year. After awhile the joints become coated with a corrosive substance which seriously interferes with their working and movements and sometimes they become permanently stiff and useless. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by going down into the blood and attacking the disease at its head. It neutralizes the poisons and acids and dissolves the salts and irritating deposits, making the blood stream pure, fresh and healthy. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is therefore a safe remedy. When the blood has been purified by S. S. S., the pains and aches pass away, and the cure is permanent. Book on Rheumatism, and medical advice free.

S.S.S.
PURELY VEGETABLE

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

"CURRENT" TALK.

An Electric Cellar Light can be turned on before you go down to fix the furnace, and extinguished after you return, no groping in the dark or falling down stairs.

An Electric Light in the barn will do away with the use of a lantern and the danger of fire.

Is your house wired? If not, send for our representative.

JANESVILLE ELECTRIC CO.
Both Phones On the Bridge

WESTERN FLOOD RECEDING

RAILROADS HEAVIEST SUFFERERS IN WASHINGTON.

Damage Is Being Repaired—Two Thousand Northern Pacific Passengers Stalled in Portland.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 19.—The water is receding in all the flooded districts of western Washington, and the damage is being repaired. The railroads were the heaviest sufferers, and owing to the loss of bridges Seattle and Tacoma can interchange traffic only by the Sound steamers, while the Northern Pacific is endeavoring to send passengers from Portland to Puget Sound by a steamer transfer on the Cowlitz river, but has not yet succeeded. Several days will pass before communication is restored.

The Northern Pacific's worst mishap is the washing out of 1,500 feet of trestle at Olegua, Wash., on the Cowlitz river. Large crews of men are rebuilding the tracks and bridges. The Oregon Railway and Navigation company is experiencing difficulty along the Columbia river, but is keeping its line open. Bridges at Lester and Walton, on the main line of the Northern Pacific through the Cascades, were washed out, but it is hoped to get trains through Monday or Tuesday.

Two thousand Northern Pacific passengers for the east and Puget Sound are stalled in Portland. They will probably resume their travels in a day or two.

A dispatch from Seattle estimates the financial loss in King county at $1,000,000 and the number of persons drowned in the county at five.

STUDENTS SHOOT POLICEMAN.

University of Arkansas Boys in Riot at Fayetteville.

Fayetteville, Ark., Nov. 19.—Henry Rough, a policeman, was shot and seriously injured here Saturday night during a riot with students of the University of Arkansas. Three hundred college boys were parading the streets and giving their college yells because of an athletic victory over a rival college. When the officer asked the students to be less riotous they defied him and he arrested one of them.

The students then surrounded the officer and in the melee which followed he was shot in the back. Rough released the boy under arrest and fired several shots at the fleeing crowd, but none took effect.

Going Back.

"This is my second childhood," cackled the tough hen, as she saw the preparations being made to execute her and serve her up as spring chicken.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

Notice of final determination of benefits and damages on Riverside street and Stone street. Published by the authority of the common council of the city of Jamesville.

Office of the city clerk, Jamesville, Wis., Oct. 20, 1906.

Notice is hereby given that the common council of the city of Jamesville at a meeting thereof, held on the 3rd day of September, 1906, adopted the final reports of the street assessment committee on improving Riverside street from the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company right of way to Stone street and Stone street from Riverside street to Western avenue by grading, and otherwise improved at the expense of the property to be benefited thereby and made a final determination as to the amount to be assessed to each parcel of real estate as to the benefits or damages accruing thereto by the said improvement, and that a statement showing the amount so assessed is now on file in my office.

A. E. BADGER, City Clerk.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson

Read the

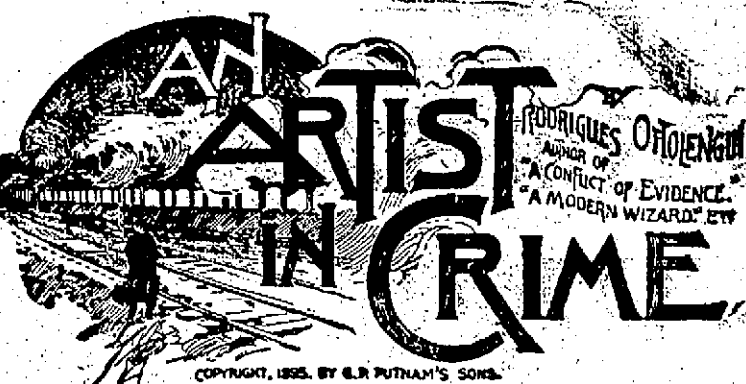

Signature of J. C. Watson

Read the

Signature of J. C. Watson

Read the

Signature of J. C. Watson

ARTIST IN CRIME

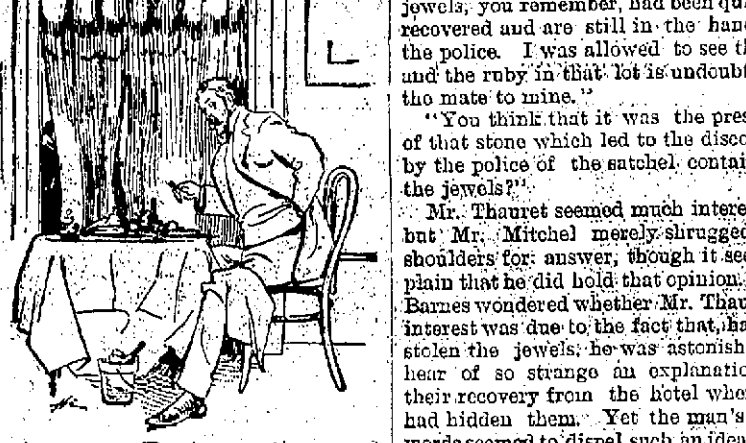

"Well, gentlemen," at last said Mr. Mitchell, "I will tell you the story. Mr. Barnes took the tidbit from his fork with a smile that showed his teeth as they bit it incisively. 'First join me in a glass,' continued Mr. Mitchell. 'Drink this ruby colored wine and pledge me that you will not repeat what I say. This only because I do not wish to attain the unenviable reputation of being a romancer, as I certainly should if some reporter should hear and publish the story now while the loss of the gem is fresh in the memory of all.'"

"The pledge was given, and Mr. Mitchell continued:

"That you might better appreciate this stone, I might begin with a dissertation on rubies, explaining to you the difference between the true oriental gem, which is rare of any magnitude, and the poorer specimens, known as spinels. However, you would only accuse me of ventilating knowledge which has come to me through the study of my hobby. I will come at once to the story of the lost jewel. Just where it was first found is not accurately known, and of its earlier history I can only tell you what has been told me. You may believe as much or as little as you like. The history then begins with the finding of Moses in the bush and the subsequent gift to him of this ruby by the daughter of Pharaoh. Thus we hear of it first in the royal house of the Egyptians. There was another gem, the exact counterpart to it. This Pharaoh had among his treasures and wore upon state occasions. With the exodus of Moses and the Israelites the ruby passed out of Egypt. From that time for many centuries its history is not marked by any great event, save that we learn that it was kept by the high priests of the synagogue and so passed down from generation to generation. One odd fact I must not forget. The deep red color, as you know, is the most prized. The color of this ruby at the present time is the most perfect in existence. Yet, so the story goes, at first the matched pair of gems were of a pale rose color."

"Do you mean to believe," interrupted Mr. Randolph, "that the color has deepened with time?"

"I do not ask you to believe anything. But it is not time that is supposed to have improved the color. With the com-quest of Jerusalem this jewel fell into the hands of the Romans, and so in time came into the possession of Caesar. In his courtship of Cleopatra he soon discovered that extraordinary woman's passion for resplendent jewels, and he was audacious enough to present it to her. Fearing that this might be readily traced to him when the jewel was missed, as it would surely be, he told her secretly of his purpose and then tied it about the neck of a pigeon, which flew with it directly to the palace of Cleopatra, who awaited the arrival of the bird on the rooftops. The pigeon, when nearly home, was attacked by a hawk, and Cleopatra ordered one of her archers to slay the larger bird with his arrow. This the man attempted, but struck the pigeon, which fell, bleeding and dead, at the queen's feet. She at once removed the gem, which was covered with blood and dyed with it, a rich red."

THE STORY

"But, Mr. Mitchell," said Mr. Thaurer, "surely a ruby could not absorb blood?"

"It is the history of the gem," Mr. Mitchell spoke in so odd a tone that one almost thought that, carried away by his love of precious stones, he had imbibed some of the superstition connected with them. He spoke as though he believed the tale. Mr. Barnes began to understand what Mr. Randolph had meant when he said that perhaps the desire to possess a rare stone might tempt this gentleman to commit a crime. Mr. Mitchell continued:

"I need not follow the story of Cleopatra. It is too well known. But there is an incident that has not been written in the general history of her career. There was an Egyptian priest who was madly in love with her, and in a moment of impulse he dared to tell her of his attachment one day when alone with her. She seemed slightly amused at his ardor, and asked what he, a poor priest, could offer her, who had rich rulers at her feet. In desperation he answered that he could give his life. The queen laughed and said: 'That is mine already. But you priests claim to be all-wise. Find me the mate to my great ruby and perhaps I will listen to your love pleadings.' To her intense surprise the man replied: 'That I could do if I dared. The gem which you have has but returned to its proper place. It was once Pharaoh's. He also had the mate to it, which from him descended through kings to Ramesses the Great. It is buried in his coffin.' 'Get it for me,' was the terse reply of Cleopatra, given now as a command rather than a request."

"In fear the priest went into the pyramid and stole the jewel. When he presented it to Cleopatra she was out at him: 'What fool's trick is this? Do you think this pale stone a mate to mine?' The priest explained that hers had been dyed red in the blood of the pigeon. 'Ah, so!' she replied. 'Then this one shall be also a richer red. You promised me your life once. I claim it, and in your blood this stone shall be steeped till it matches the other in color.' She carried out her threat, and the two stones were once more mates."

"What an absurdity!" exclaimed Mr. Randolph.

"Do not say so," said Mr. Thaurer. "We cannot tell what may happen in this world."

article that can be disposed of at a moment's notice," said Mr. Mitchell. "Very true," said Mr. Mitchell. "but—Here he paused for a moment and seemed abstracted. Quickly recovering, he said: 'What was I saying? I have lost the thread of our conversation.'"

"Mr. Thaurer suggested that the thief could keep the ruby about him," replied Mr. Randolph.

"Ah, exactly! Now I remember. Well, I should say that it would be a hazardous undertaking. I believe, had I stolen the gem—as by the way, Randolph, you suggested—I could do better than that."

"Ah," said Mr. Randolph, "this is getting interesting. Come, tell us. How should you hide the jewel, supposing that you had taken it?"

"That is a leading question," said Mr. Mitchell. "I prefer not to answer it. Walls have ears, you know. He said this in a significant way that made Mr. Randolph uncomfortable for a moment. Mr. Mitchell at once continued:

"I will say this, however, that the thief, whoever he is, cannot profit by his theft."

"Why not?" asked Mr. Thaurer.

"Because there is not another gem in existence save those two which are so absolutely perfect in color. In fact, they are the standards by which rubies are valued. It is claimed that the expression 'pigeon blood ruby' owes its existence to the staining of one of these gems in the manner described. Dealers sometimes cut a pigeon's throat to compare the blood with the color of a gem being appraised. The significance of this is that the stolen gem cannot be sold as it is because it would be recognized, and I have notified all the great dealers in the world that my 'Egyptian gem' has been stolen. If it were attempted to have it cut up, the lapidary would at once report the matter, as the reward offered by me is greater than could be earned by recutting the stone."

"Suppose that the thief himself is a gem cutter?" asked Thaurer.

"Even then the perfect color would at once tell the first dealer to whom he applied that the 'Egyptian gem' had been recut."

"The thief might be a patient man, and all things come to him who waits," replied Mr. Thaurer.

"True," said Mr. Mitchell. "But mark my words, the 'Egyptian gem' will not be sold by the person who has it now."

"Especially if that person is yourself," said Mr. Randolph.

"Just so," answered Mr. Mitchell. "The conversation now drifted to other things, and shortly after the dinner being over, the three men separated."

As Mr. Barnes was about to leave the main dining room one of the servants handed him a note. Supposing it to be from Mr. Randolph, he opened it at once and was surprised and chagrined to read:

"When Mr. Barnes next plays the eve-rop, he should be careful to observe whether a mirror reflects both sides of a portrait which he might suppose would conceal him."

"The devil take it!" muttered Mr. Barnes. "I wonder at what point he discovered my presence. Was that last part about his having warned all the dealers—thrown in gratuitously for my benefit and to lead me to suppose that some one else stole the stone? If so, why does he now let me know that he saw me?"

CHAPTER XII.

MR. BARNES GOES SOUTH.

Mr. Barnes now began some researches into the past history of Mr. Alphonse Thaurer. Obtaining the date of his first registry at the Hoffman House, he found that to be about a month before the train robbery occurred. Finding the expressman who had brought his baggage to the hotel, he ascertained that it had been taken from an English steamship, yet the name Thaurer did not appear upon the list of passengers. As it was certain, however, that the man must have arrived by the ship, it was evident that Thaurer was an alias. Mr. Barnes copied the ship's list for future reference. A search for the name Rose Mitchell was fruitless, though extended to the passenger lists of all arriving steamers for two months prior to the murder.

Believing that Mr. Thaurer must have some communication with foreign friends and hoping to obtain some clue by the postmarks of any such letters, Mr. Barnes arranged an espionage of the man's mail. But though the hotel clerk reported to him daily for several weeks there was not one foreign letter. As to money, Mr. Thaurer appeared to be well supplied, paying his board bills promptly with checks upon a neighboring national bank, in which it was ascertained that he had deposited his credit several thousand dollars.

Thus after a long investigation, Mr. Barnes was chagrined to admit that he had discovered nothing save that Mr. Thaurer had come across the ocean under an assumed name; and even this meager knowledge was a mere matter of inference.

Though baffled in this direction Mr. Barnes had been more successful in another effort which he essayed. This was a line of investigation which he inaugurated hoping to discover the whereabouts of the child Rose Mitchell, who he so skillfully kept in hiding. He had first instructed Lucette as to the part she was to play, and that young woman, anxious once more to stand well with her employer, had exerted herself to her utmost, entirely succeeding in her mission. This was to obtain some of the writing of the child. "Go to the house again," Mr. Barnes had suggested, "and get into conversation with that same servant who met you at the door on your first visit. Then in some manner obtain a specimen of the child's writing. An old copybook would be just the thing." Lucette carried out these instructions to the letter, and by bribing the servants girl at the school obtained exactly what the detective had suggested, a copybook in which Little Rose Mitchell had practiced writing.

Armed with this, and selecting a specimen which seemed best suited to his purpose, Mr. Barnes next bribed the mailboy at the Fifth Avenue hotel to examine all letters addressed to Mr. Mitchell until he should find one in the same hand. It was not long before he found it. It was not long before he found it. It was not long before he found it. It was not long before he found it. It was not long before he found it. It was not long before he found it. It was not long before he

Match this with the recent success in success. Then one day the boy reported to Mr. Barnes that the expected letter had at length arrived. The postmark indicated that it had been mailed at East Orange, N. J.

"So that is where the little bird is hidden," said Mr. Barnes to himself when this information reached him. Summoning Lucette, he sent her to East Orange with these instructions:

"Now, my girl, I'll give you another chance to redeem yourself. You are to go to East Orange and find that child. The most promising plan is through the postoffice. I will give you a note to the postmaster that will aid you. Should a letter be sent to the child either by Mitchell himself or by Miss Remsen, you will learn of it through the postmaster. The rest of course will be simple."

"But suppose," said Lucette, "that the child's letters are directed under cover to the parties with whom she is living? What then?"

"Why, stupid, that is what I send you down there for. As the postmaster is an acquaintance of mine I could get the address, should it reach him, without having you there. But that is only a faint hope. We know that the child is in East Orange. East Orange has just so many houses. You must examine every one, if necessary. Now go, and if you don't find the child I have no further need of you. I give you this commission partly as a chance to redeem your other mistake and partly because you have seen the child, once and could recognize her."

"I'll find her," said Lucette, and she departed.

(To Be Continued.)

His Own Manufacture.

Sir William Bailey "played" this off, as he expressed it, at a dinner at which the late Cardinal Vaughan sat near to him. "Where did you get that bit of history from?" the cardinal asked. "I didn't get it from anywhere," Sir William answered. "I make history as I go on."

A Good Word for Kilts.

The Tailor and Cutter observes, with its usual insight into human nature: "No one has yet suggested the utility of kilts. They never bag at the knees, nor do they ever require patching at that part; and their hygienic properties are proverbial."—London Globe.

Time Aim in Living.

Not only is it a fine career, but the aim in living of God's will, is the one true aim in living. This only can we achieve real success. If we do this though we fall in the earthly race we shall not fall in God's sight.—Rev. J. R. Miller, D.D.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair.

THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Unless early and correct treatment is applied, the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. We believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for chronic kidney troubles of women, and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in loins, backache, frequent painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or notices a sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

For proof, read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sawyer.

"I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and a serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended for a year, but kept getting worse, until I was unable to do anything, and I made up my mind I could not live. I finally decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and I am to-day a well woman. I am forever indebted to you."

—Mrs. Emma Sawyer, Congers, Ga.

Mrs. Pinkham gives free advice to women; address in confidence, Lynn, Mass.

WANTED

Buyers and Sellers of Real Estate, Farms, Etc.

We can bring buyer and seller together to the advantage of both. We advertise your property free for one year, if necessary.

The firm name in the future will be known as W. J. Litts & Co. Mr. Bennett having retired from the business.

W. J. LITTS & CO.

Cor. River and Milwaukee Sts., Janesville, Wis.

WE HAVE several customers for houses in Janesville. What have you for sale? We also have several inquiries for farms. If you have one for sale list it with us for quick results.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—For small place outside of city, business property on Main street. Store with living rooms above. Good location. Price, $3,500.

THE characteristics that have made Blatz Beers world-famed are an invariable feature of each brand.

Whether your dealer offers you Blatz "Wiener," "Private Stock," "Export" or "Muenchener," you will be sure of a beer that's brewed for quality along either Bohemian or Bavarian lines by the Blatz Process.

And it's this very process that's the answer to the much talked of Blatz Character—that "peculiarly good taste."

All of the fundamental and essential elements of honest brewing are only the "setting" on which is built Blatz Individuality.

If you're a lover of draught beer—keg beer—you should cultivate the "Blatz Sign habit."

Bottled Blatz is available, or should be, in most first-class places. Ask for Blatz Private Stock.

Branch, 254 Wall St., Janesville, Wis., or drop a line to office of Janesville Tel. Rock Co. 675 or 4763 Wisconsin for a name delivered home.

The Celebrated Brands—Wiener, Private Stock, Muenchener and Export—are Brewed Exclusively by

VAL BLATZ BREWING CO., MILWAUKEE

place for the price, $1700.

Farm and Acre Property.

FOR SALE—221 acres fine farming land within one-half mile city limits of Janesville, fairly good buildings. A bargain at $80 per acre. This is one of the very best stock and grain farms in Rock County.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

THE characteristics that have made Blatz Beers world-famed are an invariable feature of each brand.

Whether your dealer offers you Blatz "Wiener," "Private Stock," "Export" or "Muenchener," you will be sure of a beer that's brewed for quality along either Bohemian or Bavarian lines by the Blatz Process.

And it's this very process that's the answer to the much talked of Blatz Character—that "peculiarly good taste."

All of the fundamental and essential elements of honest brewing are only the "setting" on which is built Blatz Individuality.

If you're a lover of draught beer—keg beer—you should cultivate the "Blatz Sign habit."

Bottled Blatz is available, or should be, in most first-class places. Ask for Blatz Private Stock.

Branch, 254 Wall St., Janesville, Wis., or drop a line to office of Janesville Tel. Rock Co. 675 or 4763 Wisconsin for a name delivered home.

The Celebrated Brands—Wiener, Private Stock, Muenchener and Export—are Brewed Exclusively by

VAL BLATZ BREWING CO., MILWAUKEE

place for the price, $1700.

Farm and Acre Property.

FOR SALE—221 acres fine farming land within one-half mile city limits of Janesville, fairly good buildings. A bargain at $80 per acre. This is one of the very best stock and grain farms in Rock County.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

THE characteristics that have made Blatz Beers world-famed are an invariable feature of each brand.

Whether your dealer offers you Blatz "Wiener," "Private Stock," "Export" or "Muenchener," you will be sure of a beer that's brewed for quality along either Bohemian or Bavarian lines by the Blatz Process.

And it's this very process that's the answer to the much talked of Blatz Character—that "peculiarly good taste."

All of the fundamental and essential elements of honest brewing are only the "setting" on which is built Blatz Individuality.

If you're a lover of draught beer—keg beer—you should cultivate the "Blatz Sign habit."

Bottled Blatz is available, or should be, in most first-class places. Ask for Blatz Private Stock.

Branch, 254 Wall St., Janesville, Wis., or drop a line to office of Janesville Tel. Rock Co. 675 or 4763 Wisconsin for a name delivered home.

The Celebrated Brands—Wiener, Private Stock, Muenchener and Export—are Brewed Exclusively by

VAL BLATZ BREWING CO., MILWAUKEE

place for the price, $1700.

Farm and Acre Property.

FOR SALE—221 acres fine farming land within one-half mile city limits of Janesville, fairly good buildings. A bargain at $80 per acre. This is one of the very best stock and grain farms in Rock County.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement barn, A No. 1 stock and grain farm. $80 per acre.

FOR SALE—123 acres, 3 miles from Janesville, good buildings, new basement

BIG STORM RAGES OVER THE SOUTH

GREAT DAMAGE TO PROPERTY IN SEVERAL STATES.

RAILROADS WASHED OUT

Violent Wind and Rain Throughout Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee—Eight Lives Known to Have Been Lost.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 19.—Eight persons are known to have lost their lives, scores of others were injured, and property and crops suffered great damage, the extent of which, because of the meager reports yet obtainable, cannot be estimated at this time, as a result of one of the most torrential wind and rainstorms ever experienced in this section. The storm, which originated on the Gulf Saturday and early Sunday swept northeastward through portions of Alabama, central and northern Mississippi, and western Tennessee and in its northward course, razed scores of substantial buildings, partially demolished hundreds of others, caused a complete demoralization of railroad traffic and cut off telegraphic communication with many points in the affected territory.

From the reports so far received the greatest damage occurred in the central and delta regions of Mississippi. Telegraphic communication is completely prostrated.

Several Persons Killed. The wind storm was preceded and followed by heavy rains causing serious washouts along the route of the Illinois Central railroad and badly damaging crops.

At Madison, Miss., serious damage is reported to have occurred, and a woman was killed by a falling building. At Tchula, a falling tree, striking a small frame building caused it to be set afire, a woman and child being burned to death.

At Nodona Creek, a few miles from this city, a railroad trestle fell under the weight of a switch engine, the engine plunging into the swollen stream carrying with it Engineer C. V. Peterson and Fireman A. R. Ritchie, who were drowned.

West Point, Columbus and Mahan, Miss., are reported to have suffered serious damage.

Storm was Cyclic.

New Orleans, Nov. 19.—Much of the northern half of Mississippi was cut off from telegraphic communication with New Orleans Sunday, poles and wires having gone down in the storm. Reports reached the Western Union Telegraph company here that the storm was of cyclonic intensity in the region of Winona and Grenada.

Canton, a town about 60 miles south of Winona and the nearest point toward the latter place reached from here, reported that nothing whatever had been heard of Winona since the storm.

Three persons were killed near Okolona, and a number of houses blown down and others unroofed.

Jackson, Miss., reported a high wind and hail storm during the night. In New Orleans the nearby storm made itself felt by the highest temperature for this season on record during the past ten years, the mercury rising above 80 degrees.

Washouts on Railways.

Jackson, Tenn., Nov. 19.—Waters are higher than ever before known in this section. The three railroads entering here are tied up with washouts. The Illinois Central tracks at Frogmore, just south of here is washed out, the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis is cut off east and west, and about 1,000 feet of the Mobile & Ohio tracks are washed from the embankment near McNairy, Tenn.

Tornado in Tennessee.

Fayetteville, Tenn., Nov. 19.—Sunday morning about two o'clock a tornado passed through Lincoln county from the southwest to the northeast. Wreck and ruin were left in its pathway. Residences, barns, fencing and timbers were wrecked. No deaths or serious injuries have been reported. The damage to property will amount to many thousands of dollars.

Teller Held for Theft.

D. P. Dyer, Jr., son of Federal District Attorney at St. Louis, indicted.

St. Louis, Nov. 19.—The grand jury Saturday returned an indictment charging embezzlement against D. P. Dyer, Jr., paying teller at the United States treasury here, and son of United States District Attorney Dyer. The amount involved is $61,500.

The federal grand jury was convened on Wednesday and at once began inquiry into the shortage of $61,500. The father of the accused young man was relieved from the duty of presenting the case to the grand jury by the department of justice at Washington on his own request, and a special district attorney was appointed to prosecute young Dyer. When the inquiry was adjourned Friday 33 witnesses had been examined. Mr. Dyer was arrested by the United States marshal, and released on bonds in the sum of $10,000.

Senator Bailey's Mother Dead.

Crystal Springs, Miss., Nov. 19.—Mrs. J. W. Bailey, mother of United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey, died Sunday after an extended illness. Senator Bailey and other members of the family were at her bedside.

Female Barbers in Austria.

In Austrian cities there is a special examination for female barbers, who are yearly growing more numerous.

TRANS-MISSISSIPPI CONGRESS OPENING

Four Days' Session Will Be Commenced at Kansas City, Missouri, Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 19.—Everything is in readiness for the opening session of the Trans-Mississippi congress, which is to begin a four days' session in Kansas City tomorrow. It will be the eventful annual meeting of the congress. Secretary A. F. Francis estimates that there will be in the neighborhood of 1500 delegates present when Chairman F. W. Fleming of the executive committee calls the meeting to order. Every state west of the Mississippi river is expected to send its full quota of delegates and several of the commonwealths will be represented by their governors, congressmen and other public men. Tomorrow's sessions will be devoted for the most part to the making of welcoming addresses and responses and the formal organization of the gathering. The sessions are to continue until Saturday. Secretary Root is to be the chief speaker before the congress. He has selected as his topic, "The Possibilities of Establishing Direct Trade Relations Between the Mississippi Valley States and South and Central American Countries." The subjects scheduled for discussion at the congress cover a wide variety. As heretofore, irrigation and the opening of western river to navigation will receive much attention. Trusts and their relation to business, government ownership of railways and other public utilities, the preservation of the forests, levees in Texas and Louisiana, harbor improvement, merchant marine, drainage of public land, statehood, the Pan-American commercial union, deep water from the lakes to the gulf, and canal construction on the Pacific coast are some of the other topics that will receive the attention of the congress.

MADISON SQUARE IN ORANGE AND BLACK

New York Opens Today—Not as Brilliant Socially as Last Year.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Nov. 19.—Madison Square Garden, festooned in orange and black, presented the usual bright and animated appearance today at the opening of the twenty-second exhibition of the New York Horse Show association. In the social position and wealth of its clientele, its large public attendance and in the number and value of its entries, the show this year is up to the high standard already established. Viewed as the opening event of the social season in the metropolis the show may fall a little under expectations. There are surface indications that such may be the case, though the opening day is a poor one to judge decisively on this point. But the presence of Prince Henry of Battenberg, Miss Alice Roosevelt and many other notable last year set a standard of social brilliance that will naturally react upon the exhibition this year. From the viewpoint of the lover of fine horseflesh, however, the present show has never been equalled. The entries comprise nearly 2000 of the choice of American stables and stock farms. Neighboring states are represented and in the competitions are steeds which have been brought from the Pacific coast, from Canada and the southland.

HUGE CAMPAIGN PRANK.

"Joke" Candidate Running for Governor in Iowa.

All because of the thoughtlessness of 1,000 Iowa voters the name of Andrew Townsend Hisey of Tama will go on the official ballot at the November election, an expense of $5,000 will be incurred as the result and a huge joke, unlike anything before perpetrated upon a commonwealth, has been worked on the Hawkeye State, says a special dispatch from Eldora, Ia., to the New York Herald.

Hisey has lived at Tama for fifty years. He is an eccentric old man, taken by his neighbors as harmless and oftentimes called crazy. He has studied a great deal, has a fair education and has written a number of books and speeches on socialism. Last summer he stated that he was going on a lecture tour, and a number of his acquaintances proposed to him as a joke to run for governor. This idea took deep root in Mr. Hisey's brain, and he purchased a wheelbarrow, an old plug hat, got a long Prince Albert coat, and with his wheelbarrow in front of him, armed with a thousand circulars, started on his canvass for votes and for signatures on his petition asking that his name be placed upon the official ballot.

That he was successful the people of Iowa now begin to realize, for the official announcement has come from the office of Secretary of State Martin that Hisey's name will appear upon the big Australian ballot. The extra column, the extra work to get out the many, many ballots, the official publication in at least two papers in each county of Iowa, will cost the state upward of $5,000. Notwithstanding all this trouble Mr. Hisey still takes his candidacy seriously, keeps on his strenuous tour, and taking up a "penny" collection at each place he stops, makes a living, does lots of speaking, makes many acquaintances, and proposes to light in Chicago in case of his defeat for governor of Iowa, to organize the National Secular Government party, with himself as the standard bearer and candidate for the presidency.

God's Purpose. If your life seems empty and uninspiring, it means that you have not yet realized God's purpose for you and in you. "Set yourself earnestly to see what you were made to do, and then set yourself earnestly to do it; and the loftier your purpose is the more sure you will be to make the world richer with every enrichment of yourself."—Detroit Free Press.

BOMB EXPLODED IN CHURCH AT ROME

FAMOUS ST. PETER'S IS THREATENED WITH DESTRUCTION.

PANIC AMONG THE PEOPLE

No One Is Seriously Injured and the Pope Prays for the Mischance, Who Makes His Escape.

Rome, Nov. 19.—A bomb was exploded in St. Peter's Sunday. The edifice was crowded and an indescribable scene of confusion followed. There were no fatalities. The people fled in all directions and a number of women fainted. The church is so large, however, that there was ample room for the crowd to scatter and no one was injured. No trace of the perpetrator of the deed has been found.

Sunday was the anniversary of the dedication of the basilica to St. Peter, and a large number of the faithful attended the services. Cardinal Rampolla, formal papal secretary of state, was among those present.

Report Like Thunder Clap.

The last mass had just been concluded when the explosion occurred, and only one canon, who had not quite finished, remained at the altar of St. Petronilla. This altar is at the end of the right aisle, and it was near here that the bomb was placed. As the canon turned to bless the communicants there was a tremendous roar, which echoed through the lofty arches of the immense dome, like a thunder clap. At the same time a dense smoke spread throughout this portion of the basilica and a strong odor of gun powder filled the air. Confusion and panic at once seized the people.

The pope was engaged in his regular noon hour devotions when the bomb went off. He heard a muffled sound which surprised him, but did not alarm him. Mons. Misolatielli, sub-prefect of the apostolic palaces, and Mons. Bisletti, major domo of the Vatican, at once hurriedly entered the pontiff's chamber. They were so pale that the pope immediately asked: "What has happened?"

"Don't be alarmed, holy father," was the answer. "A bomb has exploded in the basilica, but fortunately there are no deaths to deplore and no one has been wounded."

Pope Prays for Mischance.

The pontiff asked anxiously if the church had been injured. Upon being reassured, he fell on his knees, saying, he must implore mercy for the misguided.

A three days' service of prayer will be celebrated in all the churches in expiation of this offense to religion. This bomb explosion makes the third anarchist outrage in Italy in four days, the other two being the murder of Prof. Rossi, in Naples Saturday, and the explosion of a bomb in front of the Cafe Aragno in this city on November 14.

Three Lake Steamers Wrecked.

Fort William, Ont., Nov. 19.—In the terrific gale which has been raging on Lake Superior, the Canadian steamer Theano, Capt. George Pearson, struck a rock four miles east of Thunder cape and was totally wrecked. The American steamer Philip Minch and the Canadian steamer Strathcona were also blown ashore in the storm and the former may be a total loss. The crews of all these boats are safe.

Amundson at Christiania.

Christiania, Nov. 19.—Capt. Roald Amundson and his companion explorers arrived here Sunday on board the steamer Helig Olaf. They were transferred to the coast defense ironclad Norge. A salute of 15 guns was fired from the fortress, and the explorers were welcomed by a number of officials and prominent citizens. A banquet was given Sunday evening in their honor.

Buy it in Jamesville.

TURNED ON THE REFEREE.

Turtles Objected to His Interruption of Their Fight.

Milton J. Vreeland, a farmer living near Pine Brook, N. J., was nearly drowned in the Passaic river yesterday as the result of his acting as referee between two snapping turtles, who was in a canoe, watched the bout for a minute or two and then decided that it was time for the combatants to break away.

He paddled up to them, reached over the side, caught them by the tails, one in each hand, and swung them into the stern of the frail craft. But the turtles did not accept this decision. They wanted to fight on, and being unable to get at each other they attacked the self-appointed referee.

The farmer had found it an easy matter to catch hold of the turtles' tails when they were in the water, but it was impossible now with the canoe to keep on an even keel. He caught up the paddle and with this managed to beat off his assailants for awhile, but at last the canoe capsized. As it did so one of the turtles dealt the farmer a blow in the back just below the belt. It clung to the place on the trousers where it had snapped and Vreeland found he could not swim.

He says himself he would have gone to the bottom but for Frank Jacobus, who turned a bend in the river in a canoe and towed man and turtles ashore.

Foolish Dietetic Fads.

"If men grimly eat to live, they will not live long," says Dr. Thomas Lathrop Stedman, in a protest against the desperate seriousness with which the present generation regards its food. Dr. Stedman suggests that people should eat what they like. "Appetite," he says, "is as necessary to digestion as is mastication, and what is eaten without relish is with difficulty, if at all, assimilated, for the stomach despises unsavory stuff and refuses to secrete sufficient fluid for its digestion."

The dietetic crank, he adds, is saved from the otherwise inevitable results of his folly by the fact that his enthusiastic appreciation of the unsavory food which he is persuaded will assure him strength and long life gives him a taste for it, and so the motherly stomach provides an abundance of gastric juice of the proper composition.

Earth Becoming a Desert.

That the earth is becoming a desert and that it is only a matter of time when it will be a desolate waste, was the statement made by Prof. Lowell in a lecture before the Lowell institute at the Massachusetts institute of technology.

The water contained by the earth is passing gradually off into interstellar space, and the great deserts such as the Sahara and those in Arizona are increasing in size much more rapidly than most people think.

According to Prof. Lowell, what were once well-populated valleys in the region of the Sahara, is now a dry, sandy waste. In Mars, similar changes have been taking place, and the planet is now about three-eighths desert.—Boston Globe.

Question and Answer.

When Nathan M. Morse was trying the Tuckerman will case before Judge McKim, at Boston, Dr. Jelly, the well-known expert on insanity, was one of the witnesses. One of the hypothetical questions asked of the witness by Mr. Morse contained no less than 20,000 words. The lawyer started this pithy question at the opening of court and closed only a few minutes prior to the noon adjournment. The point that Mr. Morse was endeavoring to bring out related to the mental condition of the testator when he made his will.

This is said to have been the longest single interrogation ever made in a court of law, and the answer comprised just three words, "I do not."

The Cynic Again.

We always dislike a man who has grasped an opportunity we failed to see. When we say of a man that he won't listen to reason he is probably saying the same of us.—The Tatler.

Read the Want Ads.

LONG MISSING DIME.

Millionaire's Delight in Finding One He Lost Many Years Ago.

After an absence of sixty-five years Frank Bookwalter, a millionaire of Springfield, O., has returned to his old home in Fountain county. One of his first acts was to recover a silver dime that he had lost when he was five years old, just before he went away, says an Attica (Ind.) dispatch.

The dime had been given to him by his grandfather, and he was playing with it on the doorstep. He dropped it, and it fell into the crack of the stone steps. The boy's parents were poor when they went to Ohio. The boy had his own way to make, and he soon developed a love for mechanics. As a young man he made home inventions that made him wealthy, and now he is several times a millionaire. A few days ago he came back to his boyhood home.

His business and his wealth had not made him forget the dime he had lost sixty-five years before, and as soon as he got to the old house he offered a man $1 to get the dime. A crowbar was brought, the stone steps were lifted from their foundations, and the dime was recovered. One side of it was black, but the other was untarnished. Mr. Bookwalter said that the recovery of that dime gave him as much pleasure as had the making of many thousands.

Bracelets With Miniature Portraits.

Many novelties in jewelry are being put forth and all designed only for persons with fat pocketbooks, says the New York Press. One is a new style of bracelet. It is a broad gold band from which a tiny portrait is suspended by a slender chain. The miniatures are about the size of a quarter dollar, and are encircled with jewels. One disadvantage in wearing a bracelet of this sort is the possible theft of the miniature, which often is held for above its intrinsic value in that it is the portrait of some one near and dear. But thieves scorn sentimentality, and fitch such souvenirs without compunction.

"Eye Game" With Dinner Candles.

Captivating shades are "coming in" with the liking for candlelight at dinner parties. One of the prettiest shades is of white satin embroidered with silver thread. Candle shades games will be popular, says a correspondent of the New York Press. One is called the "eye game." Every shade bears a reproduction of the eye of a distinguished man or woman, painted on mica, which lights up. Pencils and cards are passed round at dessert, and guesses as to the owners of the original eyes are written down. The dinner who makes the largest number of correct guesses gets a prize.

Danger in Hammerless Guns.

The new hammerless guns are more dangerous than the old fashioned ones, says the Boston Record. The slightest pressure of a twig on the safety snap puts the companions of the owner of a hammerless gun in danger of receiving a charge of leaden pellets. It will be interesting at the end of the season to compare the number of injuries by firearms this year and last.

A Winter Serenade.

My mistah Mockin'bird,
Yo' nes' is blowin' away!
An' don't you know o' winter
Done dress de hills in gray?
Yit here you come a-singin'
Lak' twuz a summer's day!

My mistah Mockin'bird,
But dat's de way ter do—
Make de wot' forget de gray
An' think de sky is blue!
I wish I had a heart ter sing
In winter time lak' you!
—Atlanta Constitution.

Kerosene a Good Cleaner.

Kerosene in hot soapsuds is fine for cleaning paint and also "hard finishes." Use about two tablespoonfuls in a pail of water. Be sure that you keep soap enough in it to cut the oil. It is also good to put a little in water you wash windows with.

As Age Steals On.

"You are young and I am old," Tolstoy is quoted as saying to an interviewer, "but as you grow older you will find, as I have found, that day follows day, and there does not seem much change in you, till suddenly you hear people speaking of you as an old man."

Read the Want Ads.

PORTABLE CORN CRIBS

Can be put up in a few minutes and when empty taken down and stored away

$6 will buy the material and ten minutes time will build a crib large enough to hold fifteen tons of corn.

That's a pretty quick and cheap way of building a corn crib, isn't it?

If you'll call, we will be glad to further explain it.

D. M. BARLASS,
On the Bridge

J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

4 Days of LINEN Selling

November 21, 22, 23 and 24

Watch for particulars Later

Thanksgiving is on the way

F. C. COOK & CO.

SILVERWARE A TREASURED GIFT . . .

Years may pass but silverware of the true sort skows not but added value. The giving of silverware for Christmas is a well grounded popular idea. It pleases and lasts always. Such a profusion of pretty designs and patterns in almost everything was never before crowded into four walls in this city.

Solid Silver Toilet Sets, 3 piece, $12 to $18.

Solid Silver Knives, Set of 6, $10 to $12.

Solid Silver Forks, Set of 6, $9 and up.

Single piece $1.50.

Solid Silver Butter Spreads, Set of 6, $6 and up.

Solid Silver Manicure Sets, $8 and up—7 piece Set

Solid Silver Carving Sets, $4 and up

Sets of Oyster Forks, Sets of Salad Forks, Sets of Sugar Shells.

Sets of Bullion Spoons, Sets of Soup Spoons, Sets of Berry Spoons.

In fact everything in table silver, either in sets or individual pieces, the silver novelties galore. The most pleasing feature about silver for gifts is the moderate price. Single pieces and silver novelties are within the reach of the most economical. Your visit to this store will be a pleasure.